ser, Paradise, Lancaster County. He has served as chapter treasurer and president, and is county treasurer. In 1992-1993, he was state delegate. Chad has served on the earnings and savings committee and raised hogs on the James Landis Farm.

Adam Smith

Plans for four-year Bellefonte FFA member Adam Smith include becoming a herdsman or livestock dealer. Adam is the 18-year-old son of Tina A. Smith, Bellefonte, Centre County. He has served as chapter chaplain, sentinel, and president. Also, Adam has served on the fund raising and public service committees. Projects include dairy, beef, and sheep, and Adam has entered various local and state contests for judging livestock, small gas engine, sales, and meats.

Michael E. Smith

Michael E. Smith, four-year Troy FFA member, said he plans to continue working with veal and dairy. The 18-year-old son of Earl and Pat Smith, Gillett, Bradford County has served as chapter chaplain and worked on a variety of committees, including citrus, BOAC, food drive, Adopt-A-Highway, aquaculture, and program of activities. Also, he has work experience on various projects, including dairy and veal farms, and with poultry (broilers). Michael has received a poultry proficiency award and was awarded first place in the county project book contest. Michael has earned the Greenhand, Chapter, and County degrees.

Stacey Smor

Derry FFA member Stacey Smor plans to enroll at Delaware Valley College to major in wildlife biology, and then "I would like to go to Alaska and study the Gray Wolf," she said. Stacey, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Smor, Latrobe, Westmoreland County, has served as chapter secretary, vice president, and president. She has also served on various committees, including initiation, cultural heritage, get acquainted, food for the needy, banquet, Ag In the Classroom, central tractor sale, and "neighbor to neighbor." Stacey has received several awards, including junior public speaking, public speaking, record book keeping, ag science, livestock judging, and the Star Greenhand. She received the Greenhand and Chapter degrees.

Brian Smyser

Brian Smyser, 17, son of Rodney and Joyce Smyser, of York, has been selected regional Star in Ag Sales and Service for his Keystone Degree.

A four-year member of the Dover FFA Chapter, the honor follows up his Greenhand, chapter, and White Rose (county) degrees, and also being honored as the outstanding York County Star FFA Boy.

His leadership roles have been to serve as chapter parliamentarian, secretary, president and sentinel. He has also worked on his chapter's Fruit, Banquet, and BOAC committees.

Brian has also attended a freshman leadership conference, Made for Excellence, a state legislative leadership conference, and the national FFA convention, and competed in state dairy judging contests. His projects include keeping a work experience project book and a production project book.

Smyer said that after finishing high school, he wants to continue working on his family dairy farm and possibly go to college.

Andrea J. Snader

Andrea J. Snader, 17, daughter of Noah and Helen Snader, of East Earl, is second vice president of member relations for the Grassland FFA Chapter at Garden Spot High School and has served as its historian and reporter.

She has earned her Greenhand, chapter and Red Rose (county) degrees and been awarded with a scholarship pin, and honors for wildlife proficiency and turf and landscape proficiency. She also was first in the state in an aquatics contest and second in Lancaster County in a wildlife contest.

Her projects include working on a wildlife management project; work experience as Shady Maple Gift Shop and doing dried flowers and crafts.

She has also served on her chapter's Cooperation Committee and has co-chaired its Public Relations Committee.

"At this time, I plan to continue working at the Shady Maple Gift Shop after graduation," she said. "In addition, I plan to continue working on starting a craft business along with one of my friends. At some time I might go to college for a degree in either greenhouse management or wildlife and fisheries management."

Kelly Snyder

Kelly Snuder, 17, daughter of Kevin and Cindy Snyder, of Robesonia, is a four-year member of the Conrad Weiser FFA at Conrad Weiser High School, where she has been involved in the American Liberty Elm Tree Restoration Project, as her FFA project. She listed her FFA achievement as taking fourth place in the state contest for public speaking. After high school, she said she plans to pursue a degree in elementary education at Millersville State College.

Brian Sokol

Brian Sokol, 18, son of Anthony and Janet Sokol, of Bloomsburg, is president of the Central Columbia FFA at Central Columbia High School, and has also served as its vice president and junior advisor.

He has earned his Greenhand and chapter farmer degrees and served on his chapter's Leadership and Recreation committees.

Brian's projects have involved raising beef cattle, poultry, small grains and hays. Competitively, he does meat judging, land judging, tractor driving and is involved in agronomy and the chapter's citrus sales
