

Goat Field Day Set

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, July 9, 1994-C3

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — Windy Hill Goat Dairy (Jacob Fisher's) will be the site of the Lancaster County Goat Field Day on Saturday, July 16, from 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

The program topic is "I Just Got A Goat. Now What Do I Do?" Discussions will include information on goat care, including feeding, health, and housing. Demonstrations will be provided on dehorning, hoof trimming, and administering boluses.

Also, goat information, milk marketing, making goat cheeses, hay quality, and food and fellowship will also be included at the field day.

Speakers include Nancy Winning, veterinarian; Denise Goss, Red Gate Farm, Palmyra; Jacob Fisher, Windy Hill Goat Dairy; and Glenn Shirk, extension agent.

Producers should note that a local milk marketing potential is developing in the New Holland area. According to a release from the Lancaster extension office, a local cheese processor wants to purchase goat milk locally and work with producers who are interested.

"We can explore the interest of those attending Field Day and arrange for a future meeting to explore this in greater detail," noted Glenn Shirk, Lancaster extension agent. Producers should bring chairs, food or snacks (including goat foods and recipes for sharing with others), and samples of hay for discussion purposes.

For more information, contact Shirk at the extension office, (717) 394-6851.
