

Supporters Golf For FFA At Tournament, Auction

(Continued from Page A1)

man, north central region vice president, contributed her own money — $70 — at the benefit auction following the tournament and dinner by purchasing a designer shirt.

Nearly everything on hand went up for auction. In one instance, the state FFA officers donated $33 for the purchase of leftover cupcakes made by Kerry Hoffman.

All 11 state officers were present at the tournament and benefit auction. They contributed their time by helping coordinate the golf outing and performing a wide range of services on behalf of the fundraiser.

At the auction, items sold ranged from a Nittany Lion football autographed by Joe Paterno, which went for $200; FFA trucks (a pair for $130); three die-cast tractors ($150); specially prepared meats to various sports events tickets; table arrangements; and other items.

At the auction, Glenn Wenger, Wenger's Farm Machinery, was honored for his support of the state FFA.

Jenny Zerby, state president, conducted the meeting before the auction. She thanked the sponsors of the various contests and supporters of FFA. "It was you, the efforts of our sponsors, that has made the FFA Association so strong," said Zerby. "It is on behalf of the FFA that I thank you."

The golf tournament was designed as an 18-hole, shotgun-start scramble, following shot played from "best ball." In all, there were 96 golfers split into about 21 teams.

Prizes were awarded. One prize featured a car for a hole-in-one on #8. The closest any golfer came was about three feet.

In the "Pink Lady" contest (which featured a pink ball rotated by team members throughout the tournament), best team was composed of Greg Hostetter, Dan Brown, Jerry Hostetter, and Jim McPeak.

First place team consisted of Dave Huston, Steven Moran, John Coldiron, and Scott Gold. The second place team consisted of Gerald Piper, Jamie Fickes, Doug Lehman, and Randy Billman. Third place ended in a tie, with the first team consisting of Dave Elliott, Dean Allison, John Brown, and Jeff Lowry. The other team was composed of Amos Fisher and Tom Wingard.

Other contests included a hole-in-one, par three, longest drive (men's and ladies), longest putt on #18 (men's and ladies), a putting contest, and other activities.

State officers present included Laurie J. Wildman, north central region vice president; Chad Slusser, state treasurer; Kelli S. Zeigler, south central vice president; Theresa M. Inhoff, eastern region vice president; Marci Harnish, state vice president; Heidi E. Dahlhammer, state secretary; Traci M. Lobaugh, state reporter; James F. McConnaughey, western regional vice president; Jenny Zerby, state president; Tony Miller, state sentinel; and Ben Dodd, state chaplain.

In the "Pink Lady" contest (which featured a pink ball rotated by team members throughout the tournament), best team was composed of, from left, Greg Hostetter, Dan Brown, Jerry Hostetter, and Jim McPeak.

First place team consisted of, from left, Dave Huston, Steven Moran, John Coldiron, and Scott Gold.

The second place team consisted of, from left, Gerald Piper, Jamie Fickes, Doug Lehman, and Randy Billman.

S.C. 4-H Dairy Show Preps For States

From the left, Jason Myers, show judge, stands with Amy Hartman who shows the reserve grand champion Holstein, Craig Walton, who shows the grand champion, and the Franklin County dairy princess.

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The South Central Pennsylvania 4-H Dairy Show was held Saturday at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg with successful participants' animals qualifying for the state competitions set to be held at the same place Sept. 26 during the week-long Pennsylvania All American Dairy Show.

The South Central District includes youth from Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Lancaster, Lebanon, and York counties.

The judge for the Holstein, Brown Swiss, and Ayrshire breeds was Jason Myers of New Windsor, Md. Judge for the Guernsey and Jersey breeds was Steve Wilson, of Parkton, Md. Showing judges were Joy Crothers, of Oxford, and Steven Shaw, of Williamsburg.

Elizabeth Smith, of Ephrata, showed the reserve grand champion Brown Swiss, while Joshua Hushon, of Delta, showed the grand champion his grand champion.

Daryl Maulfair, of Jonestown, showed the grand champion Ayrshire, while Jason Stambaugh, of Spring Grove, showed the reserve grand Ayrshire.

Megan Myers, of St. Thomas, showed the junior champion Holstein, while Elizabeth Walton, of Carlisle, showed the reserve junior champion.

Craig Walton, of Carlisle, showed the grand champion Holstein, while Amy Hartman, of St. Thomas, showed the reserve grand champion.

Cory Mellott, of Mercersburg, showed the grand champion Jersey, while Emily Dietrich, of Newburg, showed the reserve grand champion Jersey.

John Garber III, of Waynesboro, showed the grand champion Guernsey, while Brian Smith, of Denver, showed the reserve grand champion.

AYRSHIRE

- (Jr) Calf- 1. Jennifer Maulfair.
- (Int) Calf- 1. Daryl Maulfair; 2. Katie Shoemaker; 3. Jason R. Stambaugh.
- (Sr) Calf- 1. Jason R. Stambaugh.
- Summer Yearling- 1. Jesse D. Stambaugh.
- (Int) Yearling- 1. Daryl Maulfair; 2. Jason R. Stambaugh; 3. Jesse D. Stambaugh.
- (Sr) Yearling- 1. Katie Shoemaker.
- Junior 2-Year-Old- 1. Daryl Maulfair.
- Senior 2-Year-Old- 1. Jason R. Stambaugh; 2. Jesse D. Stambaugh.
- Six Years And Older- 1. Jesse D. Stambaugh.

(Turn to Page A24)

Get MOOVin' with Milk!

From the left, Emily Dietrich shows her reserve grand champion Jersey, while the Franklin County dairy princess holds her rosette, Cory Mellott with the grand champion Jersey, and Kelly Jo Myers, dairy princess.