

We Salute Our

The Other White Meat:

October is P

We salute the pork producers out of genuine respect for those who continue to work to provide the world with "the other white meat." Through all the changes in the industry, the challenges and the rewards, we want to humbly proclaim our sincere gratitude to those people who dedicate their lives and energies to ensuring that there is enough food in the world and that part of that choice includes the nutritious, healthy foods that come from pork.
