STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The theme is "Northwest Exposure," but no one is expected to suffer from frostbite at the 1995 Pennsylvania Holstein Convention, which has been scheduled to be held Feb. 23-25, at the Radisson Hotel, in West Middlesex.

Most convention details have been finalized, including a Feb. 7 deadline for ordering tickets and making room reservations.

The three-day event starts noon Feb. 23 with registration, commercial exhibits and a dairy bar open through till early evening.

The Pa. Holstein Association Board of Directors meets from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., while, starting at the same time, tours to the Wendall August Forge where handcrafted detailed metal crafts are made, and Grove City outlet mall, are scheduled.

Also, busses to the sale cattle barn will be available for those wishing to look over the consignments for the convention sale.

The convention sale starts at 7 p.m., and there is to be hot food and a sandwich bar at the convention area.

At the same time, the commercial exhibits are available for visiting. Later, from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m., the dairy bar re-opens.

In the morning Feb. 24, an early bird program is available from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., with highlights of some of the commercial exhibitors; the dairy bar opens at 8 a.m. and runs through the day.

From 10 a.m. through 3:30 p.m., the 1995 Pennsylvania Holstein Convention Ladies Program is to begin with busses leaving the Radisson-West Middlesex promptly at 10 a.m.

The first stop is "Tara" a country inn that has been designed based on inspiration from the movie, "Gone With the Wind."

A one-hour tour of the house (mostly) and grounds includes rare and priceless antiques, works of art and collectibles from the Civil War era. Some of the tour includes looks at some of the overnight rooms at the inn, including, "Rhett's Room," the "Confederate Getaway," and the "Plantation Suite."

After the tour, a family style southern luncheon is to be served at Tara. After lunch, Sharon Piano, of the Nutrition Council-Mid East, is to present a short program about calcium.

Then the group is to leave for downtown Sharon for shopping.

Pa. Jr. Holstein's Heartbeat: Alive In '95

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pa. Junior Holstein Association annual convention is scheduled to be held Feb. 10-12 at the Radisson Hotel, in West Middlesex, and promises to provide youth with an opportunity to discuss issues, meet fellow enthusiasts from around the state, participate in educational workshops and conduct business.

It all spells excitement for the junior members and adult leaders.

The theme is, "Holstein's

Heartbeat — Alive in '95," and reflects a feeling of vibrancy in the industry by the young Holstein enthusiasts.

The committee of junior members and adult leaders, chair by David and Jill Trotter, have put together a fun and educational weekend for juniors of all ages, according to a news release by the organization.

A wide variety of activities is planned, including workshops, tours, a dairy bowl contest, dance, annual meeting, awards program,

Among some of the events planned are tours to the Wendall August Forge where handcrafted detailed metal crafts are made; the Grove City outlet mall for shopping; a tour of Dean Foods, a regionally significant dairy processor and foods manufacturer; and a tour of the Joy Cone Company, manufacturer of ice cream cones.

More information on additional activities is to be made available in weeks to come. However, the deadline for ordering convention tickets, and for making room reservations is Jan. 25.

Convention T-shirts should be ordered ahead of time also, an can be ordered along with a request for tickets. The shirts come in five different sizes: small, medium, large, extra large and extra extra-large.

The price per shirt is $8 and can be added to the total payment for tickets, when ordering.

Junior members intending to attend should be aware that there are behavioral rules in effect, and that approval and a signature of a parent or guardian is required on the request for tickets.

Rooms at the Radisson should be reserved by calling (412) 528-2501, and rooms are $60 each. Those calling should state that the reservations are being made in connection with the junior convention.

For more information on the convention, call the Holstein Association at (814) 234-0364. Checks and ticket forms should be sent to: "1995 PA Junior Holstein Convention" c/o Marlene Mitchell-tree, RD 5 Box 80, New Castle, Pa., 16105, (412) 654-7869.
