

197 FFA'ers To Receive Keystone Degree At Farm Show

Lloyd Bier

Lloyd Bier indicates that his future plans are to "be able to start my own dairy farm and still shear sheep on the side, or go to Delaware Valley College for agribusiness." Lloyd, 18, Carlisle, Cumberland County, is a three-year member of Big Spring FFA. He has served as chapter junior reporter, chapter reporter, chapter vice president, and area reporter. Lloyd has served on the BOAC committee, pet therapy, calendar, float, breakfast, hayride, fun night, food sale, fair, and other committees. In addition, he has achieved the Greenhand, Chapter, Area, and other awards. Lloyd has also received the area agribusiness star honor and attended the Penn State Basic Sheep Shearing School.

Jonathan Bish

To "become a farmer and do custom farming on the side" comprise the plans for four-year Dover FFA member Jonathan Bish. Jonathan, 18, son of John P. and Salley A. Bish, East Berlin, York County, has served as chapter sentinel, vice president, and president. Also, Jonathan has served on the citrus, BOAC, and pork roast committees. Projects include small grain production and swine finishing. He has received the Greenhand, Chapter Farmer, White Rose, Greenhand, Star Greenhand, and Kiwanis Club Outstanding FFA Award.

Clinton S. Black

Plans for Clinton S. Black include attending Penn State and majoring in dairy science and to return to the home farm. Clinton, 17, son of Robert and Penny Black, Altoona, Blair County, is a three-year member of Tyrone Area FFA. Projects include dairy cattle and various work experience. He has served on the leadership and scholarship committees and the Sinking Valley Farm Show. He has participated in the Cove Dairy Show, winning champion and supreme champion Holstein (Red & White), in addition to participation in the state FFA dairy show.

Debbie Blose

Three-year Marion Center FFA member Debbie Blose serves as chapter secretary. Her future plans are to attend DuBois Business College. Debbie, 17, daughter of Carl and Bev Blose, Ambrose, Indiana County, has completed swine projects. She has also served on various committees, including Food For America, banquet, fundraising, and FFA Week. She received a second place award in the state meat judging contest.

Paul Bohnert

Four-year Liberty FFA member Paul Bohnert plans to major in agriculture education at Penn State "with plans to teach ag science at the high school level." Paul, 20, son of Dwayne and Pearl Bohnert, Liberty, Tioga County, has served as chapter reporter. Paul participated in public speaking and dairy judging contests and other events, including Farm-City Day, small gas engines contest, ag research projects (restoration of a John Deere tractor), and construction of the chapter's greenhouse. Paul has worked on a dairy farm and served on the banquet and fruit sales committees. He received the North Central Region Proficiency Award in agriculture mechanics.

Andrew Bollinger

Andrew Bollinger indicated to Lancaster Farming that he intends to attend Penn State and major in dairy and animal science and to work on his father's dairy farm. Andrew, 18, son of Thomas and Barbara Sue Bollinger, Lititz, has served as chapter treasurer and vice president. Andrew serves as chapter president and county vice president. In addition, Andrew has completed work on various chapter projects, including dairy farm records, honey bees, farm improvement project, and crop production. Andrew won a trip to Kansas City for farm business management in 1993, and was awarded the state silver honor in agronomy (1994). He was a member of the first place team in farm business management (1993). Andrew received the Star Greenhand, Star Chapter Farmer, and Red Rose degrees.

Tracy Bollinger

Tracy Bollinger wants to run for a state officer position, she indicated to Lancaster Farming. Also, she indicated she is "looking into a higher education in agriculture." Tracy, 18, daughter of Eugene and Carol Bollinger, Manheim, is a four-year member of Manheim FFA. She has served as chapter secretary and reporter. She is county secretary and serves as SAE coordinator for her chapter. She has senior cooperative work experience on a local dairy farm. Tracy, who served as Manheim Farm Show queen, has also attended various programs, including Made for Excellence and the State Legislative Leadership Conference. She attended the national convention for two years. Tracy received the Star Greenhand and Chapter degrees, in addition to the Red Rose degree. She was a gold medal winner at Kansas City for ag sales and a silver medal winner for meat judging.

Leah Bomberger

Leah Bomberger plans to attend college to study to be a physical therapy assistant. Leah, 17, daughter of Sven and Kathy Bomberger, Fredericksburg, Lebanon County, has served as assistant reporter and serves as assistant secretary. She has completed sheep finishing, sheep breeding, and rabbit production projects. In addition, she served with the cider sales, citrus sales, banquet, and dance committees. Leah received the Star Greenhand and Star Farmer honors and scholarship, record keeping, and sheep production pins.

Michael Bowman

Michael Bowman indicated that he intends to enroll in college. The four-year Central Columbia FFA member has served as chaplain for two years and has served on a host of committees, including citrus sales, fair, leadership, banquet, public relations, and program of activities. Michael, 17, son of David and Sharon Bowman, Berwick, Columbia County, has earned the Chapter Greenhand and Chapter Farmer degrees.
