The JUG passes the "winter of '93-'94" test

Remember the c-c-c-c-cold winter of '93-'94? Wondering what the next one will bring and how your herd will fair?

Install the energy-efficient JUG to reduce concerns about freezing cattle fountains. Even in the coldest weather, the JUG performed, while the competition's waterers did not.

While the JUG's thick urethane insulation keeps the winter cold out, its patented drawtube recirculates water. Cooler bowl water exchanges with warmer reservoir water to keep bowl water open. The JUG will do its job.

A cold weather test conducted by an Iowa college during the winter of '94 demonstrated its energy efficiency. The JUG used only 108 kilowatts of electricity over four months for a cost of $8.64. A competitor's waterer used 816 kilowatts, costing $65.28, almost eight times as much. The test confirmed the JUG's energy efficiency.

No other waterer equals the Jug for clean, palatable water. Low maintenance, the JUG also meets the requirements for dairy approval.

King of The Hill

You know the game. The one where you stand on top of something and everyone else tries to knock you off and take their turn at being King. The cattle business is no different. Everyone claims that their breed is "the best" for the beef industry and has tried to knock Simmental "off the hill". However, for the third year in a row, the Breed Comparison Chart published by USDA MARC* has shown that Simmental is the dominant breed for growth and maternal strength. We ask you to study the Breed Comparison Chart and find a breed that combines growth and maternal strength better than Simmental. If you can't, then we ask you to try the second most populous breed of cattle in the world and realize why Simmental truly is "King Of The Hill".

Breed Comparison Chart Adjusted to a 1992 Base.
