

Agricultural Industry Leaders Welcome FFA Officers

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — The 1995 national FFA officers will visit with agricultural business leaders across the country during a series of upcoming business and industry visits.

The six officers, accompanied by representatives of the National FFA Foundation, will travel Feb. 27 through March 10 in Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin.

"These tours make it possible to introduce the agribusiness leaders of the future to those who are at the helm today," said Dr. Larry Case, national FFA adviser and coordinator of agricultural and rural education, U.S. Department of Education. "The officers learn firsthand the latest developments in agribusiness. At the same time, industry leaders get an update on how agricultural education and FFA are changing to involve more and more young people in the agricultural industry."

The group will begin its tour in Kansas City, Mo., by meeting with H. D. Cleberg, president and chief executive officer of Farmland Industries, Inc. Cleberg serves as the 1995 chairman of the national FFA Foundation Sponsors' Board.

After meeting with Cleberg, the FFA representatives will divide into three teams to visit a variety of businesses and learn more about the industry of agriculture and the economic factors affecting it.

Corey D. Flourney, national FFA president from Chicago, Ill., said, "The National FFA Organization receives strong support from all sponsors each year. They make important suggestions to our leaders in order to plan for the future needs of the industry. We are grateful for the efforts of industry leaders such as Mr. Cleberg who invest generously of their time and talent on behalf of the FFA."

Along with Flourney, the tour will include Travis Hagen, national secretary from Chico, Calif.; Trisha Bailey, southern region vice president from Dover, Fla.; Jennafer Neufeld, central region vice president from Inman, Kan.; Greg Vetter, western region vice president from Carpenter, Wyo., and Lee Schroeder, eastern region vice president from Leipsic, Ohio.

The U.S. tour follows the national officer team's return from a two-week visit to Japan sponsored by Mitsui & Co. (USA), Inc., as a special project of the National FFA Foundation, Inc. The tour to Japan provides the officers with a better understanding of international trade relations and its importance to American agriculture.
