ANSWER — Irene Noble, Springville, sent another formula for old-fashioned whitewash, which Vernon Bryant had requested. The recipe is from an 1891 cookbook by Eilla M. Blackstone.

Whitewash

Slack 1/2 bushel lime with boiling water, covering to keep in the steam. Strain through a fine sieve, add one peck salt dissolved in warm water. Add 3 pounds of rice flour made into a thin paste, 1/4 pound Spanish whiteing, 1 pound of clean glue dissolved in warm water. Add 5 gallons warm water to the mixture and after stirring well let stand a few days, covered to keep out the dust. The mixture should be hot when put on the walls. One pint will cover a square yard. Any coloring substance may be added except green as the lime destroys the color and the green makes the wash peel off.

loosen three bolts, switch knives, and retighten. Savings continue with a choice of fan speeds. In hard-to-blow crops, such as haylage, run the fan at 1,000 rpm for sure delivery. But in corn and other easier-to-blow crops, run the fan at 722 rpm to save power and fuel.

For consistent forage — and consistent savings — no forage harvester beats the value of a John Deere Powr-Mizer Forage Harvester. See one at your John Deere dealership.

*Comparison based on manufacturer's suggested retail price (as of November 1, 1994) for rotating knives used on a John Deere 3970 and its closest major competitor. Knives for other competitors were more costly.

A dull stationary knife wastes horsepower and lowers forage quality. Maintain sharp performance with a knife for John Deere 3960 and 3970 Forage Harvesters.
