

Amy Paul Reigns In Somerset County

GAY BROWNLEE

Somerset Co. Correspondent
SOMERSET (Somerset Co.)—Amy Paul was selected the Somerset County Dairy Princess on June 17. She is the daughter of Leon and Dorothy Jane Paul, Garrett, RD 1, and a junior in the Berlin-Brothersvalley High School. She succeeds Natalie Welch of Berlin, officially on July 1.

portions, bone deterioration can easily be averted, the caller learned —“All because of a loving farmer and a gentle cow,” said the no-nonsense caterer.

“And have a ‘dairy’ nice day,” she told the client, replacing the receiver.

The four girls were asked two questions during their on-stage interview with master of ceremonies, Bob Brown, Somerset County extension agent. The most difficult one was what would they do to help the situation of dairy farmers being underpaid, if selected the winner.

All of them mentioned the importance of communication to the public in their answer, although while one contestant was on stage, the others were secluded in a soundproof place.

Dairy Maids were introduced and assisted with passing out door prizes during the evening. They were Missy Powell, Jill Brant, Michelle Shaffer and Gretchen Fox. Alternate dairy princess, Kelly Jo Bittner announced the door prize winners.

Participants in the Little Miss Pageant were Jenna Kaufman, Amy Miller, Leah Speigle, Kelly Reiman, Shannon McWilliams, Jill McWilliams, Emily Carver and Rebecca Foreman. Escorting them were Bradley Glessner and Four girls entered the pageant, three of them coming from the same school and class. Lauren Lynch, the first alternate and Miss Congeniality, attends the Somerset Area High Schol and will be a senior. Her parents are Gary and Nancy Lynch, Friedens.

Jodi Flick is the daughter of John and Sandy Flick of Berlin. Jessica Martin is the daughter of Paul and Donna Martin, Berlin. With Miss Paul they will enter their junior year of high school at the end of summer.

For her skit, Amy was a caterer giving a client an ear full of advice over the telephone. Whoever negotiates with this caterer must allow only “real” dairy products in the recipes to be served...or simply find another caterer.

And she communicated the knowledge that superb dairy products aren’t just delicious, they are nutritious, too. If taken in adequate

Amy Paul, center, was chosen Somerset County Dairy Princess on June 17, at the Somerset Area High School pageant. With her from left are outgoing dairy princess, Natalie Welch, and contestants Jodi Flick, Lauren Lynch the first alternate, and Miss Congeniality, Jessica Martin.

Joseph Speigle.

The three judges were Margaret Smith, Blair County. She lives on a Holstein dairy farm and serves on the Blair Co. dairy promotion committee.

Kathy Shriner, Moundsville,

W.Va., is the executive director of the Marshall County Chamber of Commerce. A former Somerset County resident, she grew up on a dairy farm.

Kristen Russell, Huntingdon County, owns Russell Dairy

Services.

Members of the dairy princess committee are Angie Shober, Vicki Stahl, Brenda Slingluff, Tomalee Will, Natalie Welch, Kelly Bittner, Melissa Fox, Susan Pryal, Stephanie Singo and Duana Sheeler.

Theresa Inhof Crowns Sister As Successor

COVENTRYVILLE (Chester Co.)—The 1995 Chester County Dairy Princess Coronation was held on Friday evening, June 23, in the social hall of the Coventryville United Methodist Church.

Karen Inhof, Spring City, was crowned by her sister, Theresa Inhof, 1993 Chester County Dairy Princess. Also receiving recognition were four dairy maids, Bambi Champlin, Pottstown; Crystal Kolb, Spring City; Erica Lloyd, Pottstown, and Julie Sollenberger, Spring City.

Karen is the 16-year-old daughter of Andrew and Linda Inhof, Bertolet School Road, Spring City, and will begin her senior year this fall at Owen J. Roberts High School. She has served as a Chester County Dairy Maid for the past two years. In addition, Karen's active schedule includes participating in FFA and SADD.

Helping with the family's 175-acre farm of wheat, hay, soybeans, and of course, Holstein cows, keeps Karen busy most of the time. When there is a break for outside interests, you can find Karen in some sports activity any time of the year—hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, volleyball, softball, bike riding, swimming, basketball and sledding. Following graduation in 1996, Karen plans to major in landscape construction at Delaware Valley College in Doylestown.

Bambi is the 17-year-old daughter of Louann Flowers of Pottstown, and just finished an active year in eleventh grade at Owen J. Roberts High School where she serves on the Student Council and participates in FFA and SADD. Bambi loves working with cows on the Inhof farm and looks forward to the opportunity to promote dairy products in the county.

Erica, is the 13 year old daughter of Ron and Cindy Lloyd, Pottstown, where they help manage the Morris Farm. Erica, who owns and shows both Jersey and Holstein cattle, belongs to Tri-Community 4-H Club, Pattio's Twirling Corps, Penn State 4-H

(Turn to Page B16)

The Inhof family work together in dairy promotion.

Julie Sollenberger, dairy maid; Erica Lloyd, dairy maid; Karen Inhof, Chester County Dairy Princess; Crystal Kolb, dairy maid; and Bambi Champlin, dairy maid will promote milk and dairy products in Chester County.

Pennsylvania Ayrshire Maid Becky Nolan, right, poses with Chester County Dairy Princess Karen Inhof.