4-H Camp

4-H Camp blazed a trail to the O.K. Corral this summer. Overnight Camp was held at Camp Eder near Fairfield, from June 12 through June 15, with 77 Adams County 4-H members and 22 4-H members from Franklin County attending.

4-H members attended workshops such as recreation, comparative judging, nature/wildlife, puppetry, and crafts. Tuesday night campers got the chance to put on their boots and learn country line dances. Wednesday brought cheer and laughter with a special puppet show involving each camper. Thursday morning provided campers with the opportunity to choose an intensive workshop where they could bake bread, learn about horses, study stream quality, make reed baskets or test their accuracy with shooting sports. 4-H Camp ended with a special campfire program where each group performed skits and commercials, presented costumes, banners and gifts and joined for a candlelighting ceremony.

Overnight 4-H camp was conducted by county extension staff and volunteers. 4-H teens served as group counselors and workshop counselors. Special thanks go out to these 12 counselors and two adults from Adams County: Darryl Gebhart, Cashtown; Kelly Rockafellow, Littlestown; Matt Brown, Cashtown; Andrea Bodenberg, Gettysburg; Matt Linebaugh, New Oxford; Jess Dayhoff, Gettysburg; Denise Green, Gettysburg; Matt Helm, Biglerville; Mitchell Brannen, Cashtown; Brad Black, Aspers; Vicki O'Shea, Cashtown; Heidi Miller, New Oxford; Nichole Bodenberg, Gettysburg; Kim Funt, Arendtsville; Sadie Bucher, New Oxford; Sharon Baker, Littlestown and Dan Hoffman, Gettysburg.

4-H Archery Camp Set
Warren County 4-H will be organizing a three-day Archery "Mini-Camp" this summer for youth ages 10 - 18.

The mini-camp will be staged on July 11-13 from 8 a.m.-noon each day. The instructor will be Sam Marek, Junior 4-H leader.

The purpose of the camp is to develop the skills of beginning archers and to strengthen the shooting skills of youth who are currently involved in archery.

According to Sanford Smith, Warren County, extension agent, "The camp is intended to be a continuation of the basic skills development that many youth begin at 4-H camp or at a day camp." The camp will be staged at the Warren Archery Club's facilities outside of Warren.

Equipment is not provided. Youth are expected to have and use their own equipment. However, Warren County 4-H is currently seeking donations of used or new youth bows (15-20 pounds), either recurve or compound, to be used for instruction at this and other 4-H day camps.
