Crop flow is the secret

Four intake and precompression rollers pack the crop together densely. Hydraulic dampers smooth out any bumps in crop flow, if irregularities should occur! The rollers are driven positively by gearboxes and drive shafts. The lower front roller houses the latest generation CLAAS "PROTECTOR" metal detector. The 17" distance between it and the drum is greater than on any other forager, thus improving the chances of stopping metal from getting into the cylinder, and giving a much faster feed-roller speed. Easy, comfortable chop length adjustment. The gearbox provides for 6 different chop lengths: 5/32, 13/64, 1/4, 9/32, in corn, plus two extra lengths in grass. When so equipped, the changeover between two lengths in each range can be done at the touch of a button. The header is also switched over from slow or fast at the same time.
