

CoreStates Names New Agri-Finance Board

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Twelve representatives of area agri-businesses and family farms have been appointed to a new agri-finance board of directors at CoreStates Bank, N.A.

The board was established to support the Bank's agri-finance department "in enhancing its commitment to agriculture through communication within the agricultural industry," according to CoreStates Market President Lawrence F. Delp.

Members of the newly appointed board are:

— F. Barry Shaw, president and chief executive officer, Wenger's Feed Mill, Inc., Rheems, who will serve as chairman of the board.

— Ming H. Chen, owner of Chen Mushroom Farm in Christiana.

— Roger C. Garber, partner in

James M. Garber and Sons, Mount Joy.

— Arlene H. Good, secretary/treasurer of Stevens Feed Mill, Inc., in Stevens.

— Lester F. Good, president of Good Poultry Services, Inc., Columbia.

Charles B. Hooper, Jr., President of C. B. Hooper & Sons, Intercourse.

— Ernest O. (Mike) Horn III,

president and chief executive officer of Pennfield Corporation, Lancaster.

— Milton K. Horst, president of Penn Embryo, Inc., New Holland.

— J. Robert Kindig, family farm operator, Conestoga.

— Ronald E. Kreider, partner in Kreider Farms, Manheim.

— J. Daniel Wolf, president, Wolf Farms, Inc., Stewartstown.

— And Mark A. Wolfskill, family farm operator, Robesonia.

An Elizabethtown resident, Shaw is active in professional organizations, serves as a trustee of Gettysburg College and as a member of the board of directors of Farmers Pride, Inc., and Brethren Village.

Look To Lancaster Chamber Banquet For 'Managing Changes'

Dr. David M. Kohl

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — How do you manage changes in agriculture?

That's the question the guest speaker of the 19th annual Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and Industry Agriculture Committee banquet will try to tackle.

The banquet is scheduled Tuesday, Nov. 21 at the Lancaster Host Convention Center. Reception is at 6 p.m. and dinner is at 7 p.m.

Guest speaker is Dr. David M. Kohl, professor of agriculture finance and small business entrepreneurship at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. As an educator, Kohl has provided insights into financial management and the future of agriculture in more than 1,200 workshops covering 42 states. Kohl has published four books and more than 125 articles on financial and business-related topics.

Kohl was one of the leaders in establishing guidelines for the standardized reporting and analysis of agricultural producers' financial information on a national basis. His topic will be "The A-B-C's of Managing Changes In Agriculture."

At the banquet, Charles Brosius, Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture, will present the Century Farm awards for Lancaster County. Also, the recipient of the George C. Delp Award for outstanding individual contribution to agriculture will be announced.

For more information on the evening of entertainment, information, and interaction in Lancaster County agriculture, contact Jim Shirk at the Lancaster Chamber at (717) 397-3531, ext. 51. Deadline for reservations is Nov. 15.

Rubberneck Tour Includes 700 Vehicles

pany on Muskrat Road, north west of Barnesville. More than 700 vehicles toured the ranch between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The Ohio Valley Cattlemen's Association provided their famous

Ribeye Steak Sandwiches and other unique foods. The largest herd of quality Texas Longhorn cattle in the eastern United States was pastured conveniently for guest viewing. A draft horse team and a hay wagon was provided to haul guests around a 600-head Longhorn herd on display. A special highlight was the hand feeding of gentle Texas Longhorns.

With the 24th annual Rubberneck Tour successfully completed, organizers have promptly started plans for the 25th annual tour, scheduled for the fall of 1996.
