NE Chicken Pts 1&2

JANUARY 10, 1996
 Prices were trending higher under a generally active demand, particularly on limited supplies on bone-in breasts. With the general exception of thighs, all items were needed by end users to fill empty pipelines; however, deliveries and availability continued to be disrupted by the recent winter storm conditions.

PRICES PAID PER POUND, ICE PACKED AND CO2 PACKED BROILER/FRYER PARTS, DELIVERED TO FIRST RECEIVERS IN POOL TRUCKLOT AND TRUCKLOT QUANTITIES. E. PA & NJ Poultry

JANUARY 8, 1996
 Majority prices were about unchanged when compared to a week earlier. Demand was generally moderate, and supplies were adequate to fully adequate. Schedules have been reduced in some areas due to harsh weather conditions. The undertone was steady.

Delmarva Broiler

JANUARY 10, 1996
 Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was good. Offerings were irregularly available as a result of the recent adverse weather. 3 pound and lighter weight were tight; heavier sizes were fully adequate. Live supplies were moderate to heavy; weights were often heavier than desired. Processing schedules were irregular with most sellers looking to reduce backlogs caused by the storm. Less than trucklot asking prices were 1 cent higher compared to last report on Friday at 59 to 70 cents. Trade sentiment was firm, but cautious. In the parts complex, demand was active on all items as buyers sought past due deliveries.

North Atlantic Shell Eggs

Atlanta, Ga.
 PRICES TO RETAILERS WERE UNCHANGED TO HIGHER, AND PRICES PAID TO PRODUCERS WERE HIGHER IN NEW ENGLAND. THE MARKET TONE WAS FIRM. DEMAND REMAINED VERY GOOD INTO RETAIL CHANNELS, AND FILLING GRADED ORDERS WAS DIFFICULT DUE TO TIGHT SUPPLIES. PLANTS TRIED TO CATCH UP ON GRADING SCHEDULES, BUT UNGRADED EGG DELIVERIES FROM THE FARMS WERE ALSO SOMETIMES DELAYED. BREAKING STOCK SUPPLIES WERE ADEQUATE WITH OCCASIONAL SHORTAGES NOTED FROM DELAYED DELIVERIES, AND THE UNDERTONE WAS FIRM FOR BOTH SHELL EGGS AND EGG PRODUCTS.

New York Egg Market

JANUARY 10, 1996
 Prices were higher. The market tone continued at least steady. Demand was generally good in all channels, but ability to fill orders remained difficult due to hazardous road conditions. Supplies of ungraded eggs were generally adequate, but graded eggs were often short at the store level, and plants attempted to catch up for lost processing time. The New York state inventory was 19% greater than January 2, 1996, and the New Jersey inventory was 9% less than the same date.

Egg Market

JANUARY 10, 1996
 Prices were unchanged to higher in the Northeast and Midwest, and unchanged elsewhere. The market tone was steady to firm. Demand was mixed, generally moderate to good in all regions, and distribution in the Northeast remained difficult, but improved as road conditions improved. Supplies of the large sizes were generally adequate or available, and medium supplies continued tight to adequate. Graded eggs were tight in the Northeast, and ungraded eggs were processed as fast as possible. Breaking stock supplies were generally adequate to instances barely adequate for the irregular demand, and the undertone was steady to fully steady with prices higher in the Midwest. Spent hen offerings remained at least adequate for the unaggressive demand, and the trade sentiment was steady.
