HAPPY BIRTHDAY, GEORGE!

George Washington was born on February 22, 1732, but we celebrate Presidents Day on February 19, five days after Abraham Lincoln's birthday on the 12th. George was one of nine presidents who never attended college and, like every president until Jimmy Carter, was born at home. Like virtually every president since, he wore glasses, at least some of the time, and his hair — even if it hadn't been powdered — was predominantly white. (Monroe and Pierce were the exceptions; they had handsome dark brown hair.) In his youth, Washington was considered romantic and emotional — and loved to dance.

"Let others praise ancient times; I am glad I was born in these."
— Ovid

TIP OF THE WEEK

If you hope to skim the soup, don't salt it until afterward; the salt keeps the scum from rising.

VERMOUTH MEATBALLS

- 4 pounds lean ground beef
- 2 cups bread crumbs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup finely chopped onions
- 1 cup dark vermouth
- 2 cups catsup
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- salt & pepper to taste

Combine first four ingredients and form into balls. Place in a shallow pan with 1/4 inch water and bake until just brown, turning balls frequently. Drain liquid. Combine remaining ingredients, pour over meatballs, and bake, covered, at 350° F for 1-1/2 hours.

Makes 12 servings (or more, as an appetizer).
