Wheeling Puts It In Writing.

Twice.

At Wheeling, we're so confident of the rust/corrosion fighting properties of our steel roofing and siding that we've put it in writing. Many manufacturers tout the durability of their top coat and say little about what's under the finish. A great top coat is meaningless if the steel substrate begins to fail in a few short years.

That's why Wheeling developed The System™, the most comprehensive, quality integrated manufacturing and paint finishing process in the industry. The System's six step rust/corrosion fighting program is a series of coatings, treatments, and manufacturing procedures built around a methodology that deals with fighting rust and corrosion from raw steel to finish coat. The System gets it right, right from the start.

We've Spelled It Out, In Black And White

Every panel of Wheeling roofing and siding is backed in writing. Twice. First with a 25 year limited warranty. Then with a performance certification that guarantees the standards and composition of our products, from raw steel to top coat.
