CORN PRODUCTS
Corn can be found in more than 3,000 products on the grocery shelf.
Corn starch markets, like paper and degradable plastics, and packing peanuts, which are water soluble and biodegradable, are increasing every year. The increased production of ethanol helps to utilize more corn. Every 100 million bushels of increased corn usage adds a value of approximately 5 cents to a bushel of corn.

This added usage didn't just happen. Your organizations of the Pennsylvania Master Corn Growers and the National Corn Growers Association worked for these results.

If you are not a member, you should become one.
Corn producers have a lot to offer to determine their future. You need to be a part of the action.
