'Mr. Membership' Honored By NCGA

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Minnesota corn grower Richard Peterson, long an avid membership recruiter for the National Corn Growers Association (NCGA), was recently honored as "Mr. Membership" by the NCGA Board of Directors and President Ryland Utlaut for "being the man at the helm" as the organization's membership surpassed the 30,000 mark.

Peterson, chairman of the NCGA Field Services Committee for two-and-a-half years and past-president of the Minnesota Corn Growers Association, has been one of the nation's top NCGA recruiters year after year.

"He never goes anywhere without an application," said Utlaut, a corn grower from Grand Pass, Mo. "He is a credit to our membership program."

He noted that Peterson is unique in his ability to get corn growers excited about joining NCGA. "Just like the Nike commercial says, he just does it."

What is Peterson's motivation in his drive to constantly recruit new members?

"I'm sold on what NCGA is doing and the changes we're making. When I'm sold on something, it's easy for me to sell," Peterson said, adding that, as Field Services Committee chairman, he alone cannot take credit for taking NCGA past the 30,000 members level.
