

KILE Breeding Beef Exhibitors Show Champions

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A number of Pennsylvania beef breeders showed their best at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition, held Sept. 29-Oct. 5 at the state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

The five beef cattle open division breed shows held at KILE attract exhibitors from across the United States and Canada, making it truly an international exposition.

The Hereford show is reported in a separate story. The results and photographs of the champions of the Simmental, Angus, Limousin, and Shorthorn breeds were reported this week by show staff.

The Simmental show also includes several Pennsylvania Capital Futurity classes.

Bobby Singleton served as judge for the Simmental Futurity, Hereford and Angus breeds. Jack Ward served as judge for the Limousin and Shorthorn cattle, as well as the regular Simmental breeding show.
