

Fisher To Market Trade Credit Program

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) Gery J. Fisher, vice president of credit for Keystone Farm Credit, has been named relationship manager for AgSmart, a new nationwide trade credit program introduced this year by the Farm Credit System.

Ag Smart was created to provide agribusinesses with a competitive, service-focused advantage in trade credit financing. AgSmart provides equipment loads and leases, revolving credit loans with an AgSmart credit card, and operating loans through agribusinesses to their customers, right at the point-of-sale.

AgSmart can serve a broad set of agribusinesses including implement, equipment, pesticide, fertilizer, seed, feed, and a variety of other ag suppliers.
With AgSmart, agribusinesses can generate point-of-sale credit loans and leases in a cost-effective manner, enhance their level of customer service, and position themselves as leaders in providing value in the marketplace.

In his new position, Fisher will be responsible for marketing the AgSmart program to agribusiness suppliers and dealers in 16 counties in southeastern Pennsylvania.

Gery J. Fisher

A former resident of Oley, now residing in Reading, Fisher received his bachelor of science degree in horticulture from Delaware Valley College in 1970.
