Dairy Shrine Names CRI Chief Guest Of Honor

COLUMBUS, Ohio — One of the dairy industry's best-known cooperative leaders have been selected as the national Dairy Shrine's Guest of Honor for

Thomas L. Lyon, chief executive officer of Cooperative Resources International Shawano, Wisconsin, will receive the award at the annual banquet of National Dairy Shrine during World Dairy Expo this Lyon has been a major player in the diary cooperative business since becoming general manager of Midwest Breeders Cooperative in 1975.

Under his leadership, the organization consolidated with Minnesota Valley Breeders Association to become 21st Century Genetics.

The move orchestrated by Lyon was one of the larger complete consolidations in artificial insemination history, and helped reduce operating costs for the two cooperatives by over one million dollars. 21st Century Genetics went on to be the first Al organization to adopt the 50point linear scale for rating individual type traits in dairy cattle.

Dramatic changes in dairying prompted Lyon to play a major role in the formation of Cooperative Resources International in 1993.

CRI at the outset was a member-owned holding cooperative joining the business functions of Wisconsin Dairy Herd Improvement Cooperative and 21st Century Genetics in an effort to control costs and improve service to farmer members. Two other AI cooperatives and a livestock marketing cooperative have now joined CRI as subsidiaries. The organization currently has over 1100 employees and 60,000 members

In 1994 Lyon worked with two other Shawano businesses to form a Child Car Cooperative at CRI headquarters With a capacity for 80 children, the first of its kind center called Kids in the Kountry is located in a new facility adjacent to CRI offices.

In addition to his role as CEO Cooperative Resources International. Lyon is a board member and former chairman of

HAMILTON BROS

Cooperative National the Business Association, the National Association of Animal Breeders, and the Cooperative Development Foundation.

He is also a former President and Board member of the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin and in the Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives. He has also served as a trustee of both the Cooperative Foundation and the Graduate Institute of Cooperative Leadership.

Lyon is a director of M&I Bank of Shawano, and is involved with the FFA Foundation, the Governor's Task Force on Wisconsin Stewardship, National Dairy Shrine, the Wisconsin Animal Industries Foundation, and the National Agricultural, Research, Extension, Education and Economics Advisory Board. His past activities have included involvement with 4-H, June Dairy Month, dairy cattle judging, Rotary, and his local parish.

A graduate of Iowa State University in Dairy Science and the youngest son of an Iowa dairy family, Lyon began his career with the Iowa State Dairy Association before moving on to various positions with Midwest Breeders Cooperative.

He was ISDU Dairy Science Distinguished Graduate in 1980 and was named to Phi Kappa Phi there in 1984. He was also World Dairy Expo's Industry Person of the Year in 1985.

Lyon's numerous other distinctions have come from organizations such as the University of Wisconsin, the National Agri-

Marketing Association, Alpha Gamma Rho, and the National Cooperative Business Association.

Lyon and his wife Barbara have two sons and a daughter.

The Guest of Honor distinction is given annually to a contemporary leader who has made outstanding contributions to the dairy industry. Members of National Dairy shrine make nominations for the recognition.
