Jason Innerst

Four-year West Perry FFA member Jason Innerst enjoys going to new places and meeting new people.

Jason, 18, is the son of Thomas and Debra Innerst, Ickesburg. Jason plans to attend Penn State to major in agriculture education.

Jason is chapter treasurer. In addition, he has served on several committees, including summer trip, calendar, and budget. SAE projects include heifer, alfalfa, and corn. Jason won proficiency awards for heifer and alfalfa. He received his Greenhand, chapter, and area degrees.

Lindsey Jacklin

Twin Valley FFA member Lindsey Jacklin noted that she enjoys "all of the fun activities we were able to take part in," she wrote, "and the many friendships made through the FFA."

Lindsey, 17, is the daughter of Karen Shepherd, Elverson. Lindsey plans to be a veterinarian technician.

Lindsey has served on various committees at Twin Valley, including Tel Hai, Food For America, citrus sale, tree planting, bulb sale, and others. She competed in regional horse judging contests, regional livestock judging, the county leadership conference, and others. She received a bronze medal for her record book.

Lindsey also completed pet projects and worked at a kennel and a veterinarian office. She received her Greenhand and chapter degrees.

Adam Jesse

Four-year Linesville FFA member Adam Jesse enjoys the activities and the "different people you meet because you get to know different types of people and have fun with them," he wrote.

Jesse, 17, is the son of Robert and Robin Jesse, Linesville. He plans to attend Edinboro University to major in special/elementary education.

Jesse has served as chapter reporter, sentinel, and is chapter secretary. In addition, he has served on various committees, including scholarship, SAE, and leadership. He has also completed several projects, including dog, home garden, goat production, rabbit production, and employment.

Jesse has received several awards, such as first place in regional parliamentary procedure and a third place in state parliamentary procedure. He has received the Greenhand and chapter degrees.

Danae K. Johnson

What Danae K. Johnson most enjoys about FFA is the "opportunity to participate in contests and learn more about agriculture," she wrote.

Danae, 18, is the daughter of Alanson and Bonnie Johnson, Lewisburg. Danae plans to attend Penn State to major in agroecosystems and/or animal science.

Danae has served as Mifflinburg FFA assistant vice president and SUN Area reporter. She also participated in various events and programs, including FFA Activities Week, Penn State dairy judging, Delaware Valley dairy judging, county fair dairy show, district dairy show, and state dairy show. She also was a member of several committees, including exhibit and demonstrations, donkey basketball, Penn State Activities Week, and citrus.

Danae has completed a variety of projects, including swine finishing and dairy herd and corn production and dairy herd. She received her Greenhand, chapter, and SUN Area degrees.

Todd Johnson

Todd Johnson, Bellwood Antis FFA member, garnered some important lessons from FFA memberships. He noted, "The ability to work with other people and to make a positive difference around my school and community," in addition to the competitions and to meet new people.

Todd, 17, is the son of Dave and Sue Johnson, Bellwood. The four-year Bellwood Antis FFA'er is also the South Central FFA Star in ag sales, service, and mechanics.

Todd has held various offices, including sentinel and secretary, and is president. Todd plans to attend Triangle Technical School in Dubois for welding and metal fabrication.

Todd has served on several committees, including community service, cooperation, recreation, state and natural activities, conduct of meetings, alumni relations, earnings and savings, public relations, and scholarship. In addition, he has completed several projects, including practicum skills, mechanics, EMS services, and work experience with mechanics and lawn mowing.

Todd has received gold and silver honors in the county, area, and state record-keeping contests, and an award for salesmanship. He received the Greenhand and chapter degrees.

Charles E. Jones

FFA activities allow great leadership training for members, noted four-year Danville FFA member Charles E. Jones.

Charles, 18, is the son of Richard and Deborah Jones, Danville. Charles plans to pursue a degree in greenhouse management.

Charles is chapter president. In addition, he has served on several committees, including citrus sales, Halloween float, and banquet. He completed horticulture projects and received the Star Greenhand honor. Charles received the Greenhand and chapter degrees.

Robert Preston Karr

Four-year Manor FFA member Robert Preston Karr enjoys "learning about agriculture and spending time with people who share the same interests."

Robert, 18, is the son of Lois and Preston Karr, Millersville. Robert plans to keep working and possibly attend a trade school.

Robert has served as chapter treasurer. In addition, he was a member of the fruit sale and Adopt-A-Highway committees. He completed on- and off-farm work experience and a broilers project.

Robert received an award as part of the first-place meats judging team at Penn State as well as an individual award. He received the Greenhand, chapter, and Red Rose degrees.

Leslie A. Kenamond

Four-year Mifflinburg FFA member Leslie A. Kenamond noted she enjoys participating in dairy judging. FFA has also allowed her to gain knowledge in "breeding, developing, and expanding my current dairy herd for type and production," she wrote. Membership also has allowed her to improve showing skills at local, state, and championship shows.

Leslie, 17, is the daughter of John and Nancy Kenamond, Mifflinburg. Leslie plans to attend Delaware Valley College to major in dairy science, and "to continue to breed and develop my dairy herd."

Leslie has served as chapter assistant secretary. In addition, she has served on various committees, including chairing the Greenhand and public relations, and serving on the citrus, donkey basketball, conservation, and cider committees.

Leslie has participated in various FFA activities, including Union County West End Fair, Bloomsburg Fair, 4-H and FFA district and state shows, fall championship, and dairy judging at FFA Activities Week. She has also completed dairy herd projects from 1996-1999 and off-farm work experience in 1999.
