Why zinc phosphate?
In metal roofing and siding paint holds better on heat formed zinc phosphate. Room temperature formed it's brittle. Also zinc phosphate is better than chromate because paint scrapes and peels off easier from chromate and rusts easier. Almost the entire industry uses chromate or room temperature formed zinc phosphate. If other manufacturers would use heat formed zinc phosphates as Everlast II then the industry would have less trouble with failed paint and premature rusting.
