Clover Joins Agri-Basics

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) - Agri-Basics Soil Service ABSS welcomes Andrew W. Clover to the ABSS team of independent crop and soil consultants.

Clover graduated from Penn State University in December 1999 with a bachelor's degree. His coursework reflects an agronomy emphasis. While at Penn State, he was a member of the Ag Systems Management Club, and last summer he served an internship with ABSS.

"Andy brings a combination of farm experience and education to the field," said Jesse Weaver, longtime ABSS consultant. "He is thorough, does a good job, and gets along will with people."

"I like getting out and working with producers and the variety in the job that goes with that," says Colver, who has been working on dairy farms in Lebanon County since he was 16 years old.

Prior to joining Agri-Basics, Inc., Colver worked his way through school for the past three years at the Meily Farm in northern Lebanon County, where he continues to serve occasionally as a relief milker.

He lives in Annville, and will be providing crop and soil consultation services in western Lebanon County, northwestern Lancaster County, and Dauphin County.
