

(Continued from Page A21)

Heather Sleeman presented a Nittany Lion plaque to Jeff Harding, 2000 Dairy Expo Dedicatee.

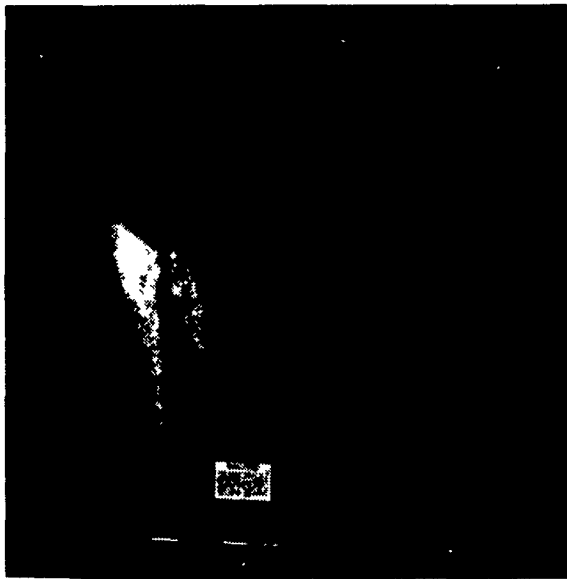

Heather Oberholtzer was presented the 2000 William R. Davey award from last year's recipient, Mark Mosemann.

David Packard was honored as the 2000 Dairy Expo Show Manager by Ken Raney of the Pennsylvania Holstein Association and Robert Rumler, Holstein Association USA Chairman Emeritus.

Terry Eatherton, Penn State Department of Dairy Science Head, presented Robert Rumler with the Distinguished Alumnus award from the Department.

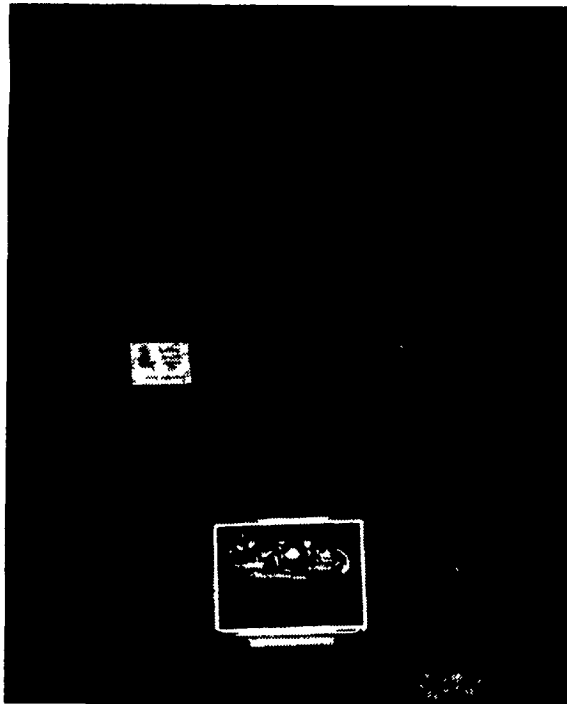

Curtis Beldel received the August E. Branding Award for the outstanding junior student from last year's recipient Todd Morris.

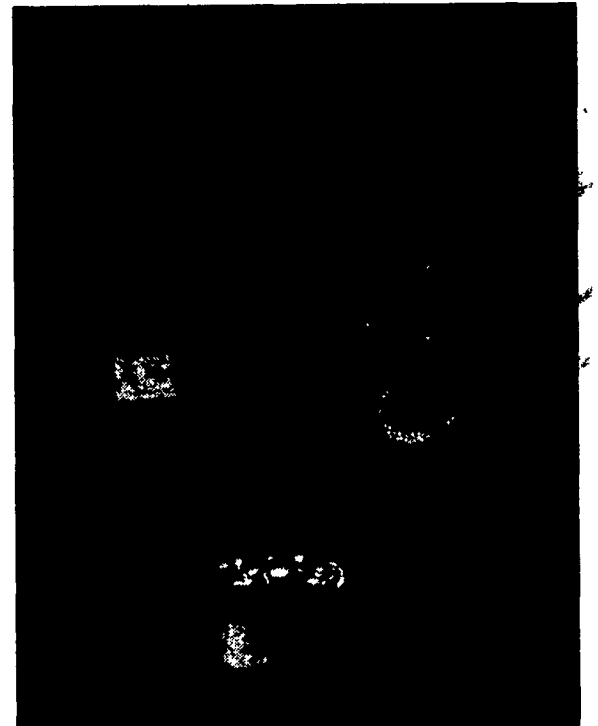

Josh Hushon received the Outstanding First Year Member award from club member Lauren Lynch.

David Lentz received the Young Dairy Leader award from club member Allen Behrer.

Angie Morschini was honored by Ken Raney on behalf of the Holstein Association for chairing the Pa. Junior Holstein Convention Quiz Bowl contest.

Ken Raney of the Pennsylvania Holstein Association presented an award to Diane Glock for chairing the Nittany Lion Fall Classic.

Outgoing Penn State Dairy Princess Angie Morschini congratulates the 2000 Penn State Dairy Princess Joanna Wilson.

This year's Expo Show winners are from left Tom Uber, reserve overall champion, and Steve Palveski, overall champion.

This year's dairy judging team that traveled to the North American Livestock Exposition in Louisville included from left coach Chad Dechow, Tia Crider, David Miklic, and Nicole Over. Missing from photo is Tara Godshall.