

Deadline For Governor's Award Announced

CONSHOHOCKEN (Montgomery Co.) - Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) Regional Pollution Prevention and Compliance Assistance Chief Heather Bouch recently announced the deadline for the 2000 Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence.

Environmentally-friendly farms and agribusinesses, along with governmental groups, companies, and organizations, are encouraged to submit their application for this prestigious award by July 14.

"Gov. Tom Ridge created these awards to recognize Pennsylvania's environmental leaders for their efforts in preserving and enhancing our environment," Bouch said. "By recognizing the achievements of our award winners, we can educate the public that the economic and environmental benefits of preventing pollution and promoting energy conservation not only makes sense for the environment, but give money back to employers and individuals by reducing their operating costs."

Since Jan. 1, 1997, the 132 past award winners have reduced wastewater by 2.3 billion gallons, solid waste by 78 million tons and air emissions by 75 million tons. They reduce electricity use by more than 30 million kilowatt hours, while saving $385 million in costs along the way.

"These impressive results from groups, employers and individuals are the foundation for Pennsylvania continuing to be an environmental and economic leader in the 21st century," Bouch said.

This year, DEP is offering a new service where applications may be filled out online and submitted electronically. Applications are also available by downloading them from DEP's website or by contacting DEP's Office of Pollution Prevention and Compliance Assistance at (610) 832-6021.

The Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence is presented annually to Pennsylvania businesses, government agencies, municipalities, organizations, farms and agribusinesses, or individuals engaged in pollution prevention, recycling, or energy efficiency.

Each candidate may submit one application focusing on a best project or program in the categories of pollution prevention; energy efficiency/renewable; technology innovation; management system; technical assistance provider; land use; industrial recycling; recycling and market development; and education and outreach.

To submit or download a 2000 Governor's Award application electronically, or to find out more information on the awards program including descriptions and video clips of previous winners, visit DEP through the Pennsylvania homepage at www.state.pa.us or directly at www.dep.state.pa.us (directLINK "Governor's Awards").
