Farm Life

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to live on a farm? Here is your chance to visit all kinds of farms virtually on the Internet

CyberSpace Farm. Spend a week on a Kansas farm and find out how everyone pitches in. There are fun facts about corn, wheat and other crops. Check out the farm animals and find out what a "wether" is. The site includes games, puzzles, recipes and more. <http://www.cyberspaceag.com/>

County fair. Head off to the county fair with Booster Rooster. It's a great place to find out about the crops grown in Michigan—soybeans, sugar, blueberries and more. Then check out the farm animals, too. <http://www.mda.state.mi.us/kids/main.html>

Pioneer farm. Did you know George Washington was a farmer? To learn more about his life and farms, visit this site. It has information on his experiments in farming, who worked this farm and more. <http://www.mountvernon.org/pioneer/>

Goat ranch. Head to Oklahoma to visit a goat farm. You can even see the goats' playground. Best of all, see photos of the baby goats at the ranch. <http://www.icon.net/~tynycgoat/>

Family farm project. This site, the basis for a college course, studies family farms in Ohio. You can work through daily tasks with a farm family, learn how the members of the family work together and find out how farming has changed throughout the years. <http://topaz.kenyon.edu/projects/famfarm/welcome/welcome.htm>
Check out the farm school section at <http://topaz.kenyon.edu/projects/farmschool/addins/farmscho.htm>

Ducks and geese. Ever hear of Pekin ducks? You will learn all about them at this California farm that produces ducks and geese. Read the stories from people, including a science teacher, who have geese and ducks. <http://www.metzerfarms.com/>

Kansas wheat country. Visit Kansas wheat farming families and find out what their daily lives are like. You can also find out what prairie skyscrapers are, learn trivia about Kansas and wheat, and pick up some wheat facts. <http://www.wheatmania.com>

Colorado farm animals. Meet horses Jack and Jill and find out what they eat. Check out the goats or learn more about the wildlife around the farm. Then find out what all the people on the farm do. Some pick apples, while others train horses. <http://www.kidsfarm.com/>

Study farm. Take a trip to a study farm in the United Kingdom. Follow the rooster through the site to see what it would be like to stay there, and visit the kids who live on the farm. After that, see the animals who live on the farm. You can even write to them. <http://highashfarm.co.uk/>

Farm safety. This site doesn't have much yet, but it does include tips on staying safe on farm equipment. There's a quiz, where you can compete to win prizes. (Remember, before you send your name, get an adult's permission.) <http://www.fs4jk.org/>

Please note: This list only applies to the sites listed, not to any sites that may be linked. Web sites change constantly. At the time this article was written, these Web addresses worked. Some of the sites may call for software you do not have. You can still look at much of the information on the site, but you may need the software for movies. If you do need software, be sure to have your parent(s) read any software agreements before you download it.
