

Bradford County

His Kids Goat Farm

H. Paul and Joyce Hail from Wyalusing are the first goat farmers to earn the Dairy of Distinction title in Pennsylvania. Milking 30 goats and raising 40 kid goats on their 45-acre farm, the Hails are glad they can raise their four children, Zachary, Kaitlin, Kara, and Jacob, on the farm. The Hails have a raw milk license and currently sell their milk to neighbors who come to the farm. However, they have purchased all of the equipment to pasteurize their milk and hope to be able to sell pasteurized milk to urban nearby grocery stores. They also make goat cheese and fudge. The Hails purchased the farm five years ago after moving from Bucks County to get out of suburbia.
