North Mountain 4-H
 The last meeting of the North

It's hard to believe that it is almost October. The last of the summer picnics have been held. In one case, another lady and I were put in charge of the program. Instead of getting expensive entertainment, we decided to be the program ourselves. We both spoke on our interests and hobbies and illustrated them too. Our classmates seemed to enjoy the program.

The tall green corn is gradually disappearing from the fields as the silos are filled. One piece of equipment cut and chopped six rows at a time or three acres in an hour. With bare fields, it will certainly seem like fall. Now our four resident deer will have to find a new home and new food although there are still plenty of woods for them to hide in.

My husband told me that he really likes bananas and so when I saw a peck for 99 cents, I bought them. What to do with 25 ripe bananas? First I gave the grandchildren each a bag to take home. Then we put them on our breakfast cereal. And, finally, I had to make two pans of banana bread. I had not made any for years and I had forgotten how it looked.

Oh yes, I must mention the fact that we have a new grandson — at our age. Some of our friends are great, great grandparents. Our little number 15 was born in Indiana to our youngest daughter and her husband. Now the father has three boys to tend as she works full time as a human resource manager. They moved from Texas last summer and bought a house on a lake. They think that we should visit them as they are always visiting us.

Mountain 4-H Club was Aug. 26 at Mrs. Bushongs house for 4-H roundup.

Roundup started at 1 p.m. Games played were badminton, hula-hoop contests, jump roping contests, water balloons, and three-legged races.

Dinner was served at 5:30 p.m. Before dinner, awards were presented to club members and to the officers.

North Mountain 4-H Club's new fall projects are air riflery, Adopt-A-Tree, backyard poultry, cake decorating, crafts, dog obedience, entomology, old tractor restoration, vet science, wildlife, and woodworking. For community service projects, the club is still collecting soda tabs to give to the Ronald McDonald House.

Youth Event

York County 4-H member Cory Stump received second place honors at the Pennsylvania State 4-H Achievement Days Horse Presentation Contest in August.

This accomplishment qualifies him to represent Pennsylvania 4-H in the horse demonstration contest at Quarter Horse Congress in Columbus, Ohio.

Stump will present his illustrated talk, titled "HYPP — The Quarter Horse Killer," Oct. 12.

The objectives of this contest are to help youth gain self-confidence, to develop their ability to illustrate their horse knowledge and share it with others, and to develop skills in effective organization and presentation.

Stump has been a Blazing Saddles 4-H Horse and Pony Club member for nine years and has been actively involved in 4-H County Council and assisted with numerous county 4-H activities. He is in eleventh grade at the York County School of Technology. Stump is the son of Clyde and Carolyn Stump of East Berlin. Donations to support Stump with his traveling expenses to this event can be sent to York County 4-H Horse Clubs, 112 Pleasant Acres Road, York PA 17402. More information can be obtained from Michele at the Penn State Cooperative Extension Office at (717) 840-7408.
