

Berks County 4-H Beef Take Home Honors

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Members of the Berks County 4-H Beef Club recently competed for top honors at the Kutztown Fair in August and the county roundup in September.

Judges for the two events were John Hausner, York County, and Robert Mikesell, State College.

Kelly Dietrich, Hamburg, showed her steer "Lucas" to champion honors in fitting and reserve champion heavyweight at Kutztown Fair and was selected champion market steer at roundup. During the fitting contest, 4-H beef club members use 30 minutes to prepare their animals for the show. The animals enter the ring clean, dry, and clipped and are then fitted in the ring. The first and second place individuals in each age division return for five minutes to put the finishing touches on their animals for champion honors. Reserve champion fitter and showman was Cathryn Levan, also of Hamburg.

Champion honors in showmanship at the Kutztown Fair went to Emilie Miller, Womelsdorf, with her bred-and-owned Hereford steer, "K-Ci." In this event, contestants are judged on their ability to present their animal and also themselves in the showing. Miller placed fourth in the overall champion showmanship contest. In this competition, champion showmen in dairy, sheep, goats, beef, hogs and dairy beef compete for top showman-

In the market steer competition at Kutztown Fair, grand champion honors went to Clay Brubaker, Womelsdorf. Brubaker, a first-year 4-H member, exhibited his crossbred steer "Tex." Matthew Manbeck, also of Womelsdorf, showed the reserve champion market steer at both Kutztown Fair and roundup, after winning champion lightweight steer honors at both events with "Scottie."

The final beef competition at Kutztown Fair was the breeding classes. Five breeds of cattle were represented. Champion female of all breeds went to Matthew Manbeck, with his Simmental champion, "Matts Sable." Champion Angus went to Michael Holcombe, Mohrsville. Champion Hereford female went to Emilie Miller with her junior yearling. Champion Limousin honors went to Kelly Dietrich with her junior yearling. The outstanding beef club project members for 2000 were announced at roundup. The Outstanding Beef Club Member was a tie this year between Emilie Miller and Clay Brubaker. The tie was broken on an interview. Miller's steer brought $1,600 from Moyer Packing Company and Alderfer Auction Company. Brubaker's steer brought $1,500 from Select Collisions Center, Empire Service, and Bunnell Farms.

Reserve Outstanding Project Member was also a tie between Matthew Manbeck and Cassandra Spatz. This tie was also broken on an interview and Manbeck sold his steer to Miles Angstadt Livestock Hauling for $1,050 and Spatz sold to Rich Brandt Farm and Land for $1,250. The Outstanding Project Member is determined by how well members place in showmanship and market classes at Reading and Kutztown fairs and roundup, and how they score in a skill-a-thon, which tests beef industry knowledge.

Hesston Forage Harvesters

Model 7155S

It's no big secret that whole-stalk corn silage produces 40 to 50% more digestible energy over corn harvested as grain.

The big secret is how economically and efficiently you can harvest it with a Hesston® 7155S Forage Harvester

More cutting power.

Designed for the average-sized livestock producer, this small machine packs a big punch. Its "straight-thru crop-flow" design puts more power into cutting, less into handling the crop. That means greater field efficiency year after year.

The 7155S easily handles tractor PTOs from 90 to 175 hp, and is available with 2-row corn silage header or 6-foot-wide hay pickup.

Fingertip control.

Electro-hydraulic remote control puts harvesting functions at your fingertips, and the 1,000 rpm drive assures big capacity.

This season, make silage more efficiently and economically — with a new Hesston 7155S. See us today.
