"VOICES OF EXPERIENCE"

(Continued from Page B20) what they're allowed to do. "Traditional toys offer today's children a new aspect to their childhood. You should see kids' reaction to my program. No one ever told them that this was possible — open-ended play or running in a field for half an hour or digging holes! They look so shocked! It gives them an option over mindless TV."

None of the objects on Metzel's display table is worth any great dollar amount, although Metzel does attach a sentimental value to the first ball and cup he carved as a ten-year-old. The real value, though, the intrinsic value, lies in what we can learn from the object, what we can learn about how children played. It's the ideas that are antique and should be preserved in a sort of Smithsonian for ideas, for playing card bicycle motors, Indian mouth bows, bean bags, and whirligigs.

To share your heritage play memories or to book Bill Metzel for a "Kids Back Then" program, write Bill Metzel, Box 466, Lemont, PA, 16851, or call 814-234-7701.
