

PURINA'S SUPER EXT® BOOSTS PRODUCTIVITY AT CORRELL FARM

Jim, Becky and James Correll, of Clayton Delaware are committed to making the right things happen on their dairy. With well over 200 registered Holsteins (120 cows and 110 heifers) and 460 acres (160 owned and 300 rented) they realize the importance of working on the right things and having the right people on their team.

Cows are milked twice per day, with mostly family labor, plus some help from JoAnn Lane. Milk is sold to Land O'Lakes Co-op.

The Correll's look to Gene Garrett, Purina's local dairy specialist, and the Purina team for dairy nutrition leadership. Their forage (corn silage and alfalfa baleage) is complemented by Purina's Super EXT® 24% feed, fed through six Boumatic computerized feeders. Jim has been especially pleased with butterfat production, since feeding Super EXT®.

Cow comfort is very important on the Correll dairy. James Jr. and cousin Aaron Thompson recently worked to improve cow comfort by renovating the freestall barn.

Teamwork, enhanced nutrition and better cow comfort are paying off. The Correll dairy has achieved their highest production yet; a herd average of 21,643 pounds milk, 828 pounds fat and 678 pounds of protein.

Purina Mills Inc. compliments the Correll's on their progress and thanks them for the opportunity to be part of their team.
