Fryer Parts

Part I

Atlanta, GA.

April 11, 2001

Report Supplied By USDA

Trucklot buying interest remained very light and selective as dealers kept floors-tocks as closely balanced as possible. Offerings of boneless-skinless breasts were usually available, with spot discounting noted where product was difficult to place. Bone-in breasts were more than sufficient. Active draw through export channels continued to keep legs and leg quarters well cleared. Wings ranged balanced to tight at times. Retail and distributive movement remained limited and feature activity usually centered around the seasonal holiday items. The market tone was about steady on breast items, fully steady on dark meat cuts, fully steady to instances firm on wings.
