

Somerset County Claradale Farms

Clark and Vera Yoder own and manage this Somerset County farm in partnership with sons Bob and Rick.

The Yoders milk about 75 Holsteins in comfort stalls and farm a total of about 425 acres. They grow all of the haylage and high moisture corn for the cows, as well as selling oats, straw, and high moisture corn.

Clark said his father bought the home farm in 1952 and Clark and Vera took over about 1960. They named the farm Claradale by combining their first names to make "Clara."

Everyone works together on "keeping the place up," Clark said.
