

Susquehanna County Meadowside Farm

When a fire destroyed the original Meadowside dairy barn in April 1997, Jim Gilleran had it rebuilt and operating by October of the same year.

Jim and his brother Robert are the third generation in the family to work the land on this Susquehanna County farm, taking over the operation from parents Robert and Alice Gilleran. The younger Robert's wife Rachel and their two children also help on the farm.

The Gillerans run a grazing operation for about 45 milking cows and grow forages on about 500 acres.

Father Robert is still responsible for a lot of the mowing and trimming that helps make the property stand out, Jim said.
