ented to various individuals.

Coudersport High School Senior Travis Mosher accepted the Henry Staiger Memorial Award, presented by the Potter County Conservation District. Mosher is a member of the Spud Growers

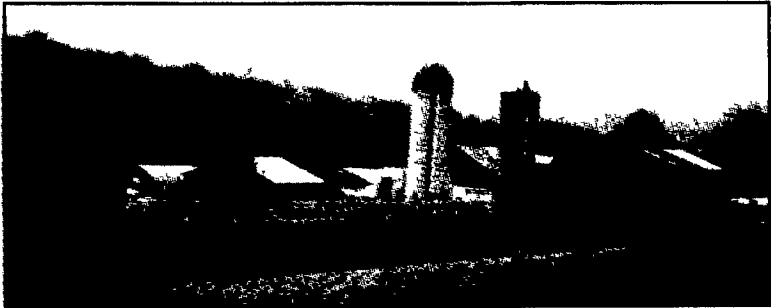

FFA Chapter. Kyle Hilfiger, Ulysses, earned the Robert Barnett Memorial Award for being the "most improved vocational agriculture student 2001-2002." A member of the Headwaters FFA Chapter, Hilfiger will be a senior at Northern Potter High School in the fall.

Also presented by the Potter County Conservation District was the "Take Pride in America" Award. According to representatives, the award is presented to a farm operation that implements conservation best management practices, demonstrates community involvement, and is considered a conservation farmer by his or her peers. This year the award was given to Kar-Dale Acres, operated by Dale and Carol Hoffman and family, Oswayo Township. Today the family milks 512 cows and has 440 replacement heifers and calves on 766 acres.

Dairy Of Distinction

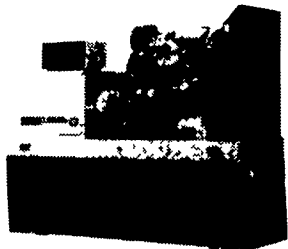

This is Riverside F Farm, owned and operated by Charles and Amy Theobald, Waymart, Wayne County. It is one of 31 Pennsylvania farms honored with a Dairy of Distinction award this year. A photograph of a different farm was mistakenly submitted to Lancaster Farming and appeared in the Dairy of Distinction section last week.
