7 Questions Most Oil Suppliers Hope You Never Ask!

- 1. How may oil exceed the minimum specs? *Ours Does! Did you know that most brands of oil on the market only meet the bare minimum API specs? You may not be getting the lubrication you need, resulting in added wear
- 2. Does my oil have the proper agents in to keep my engine clean? *Ours Does! Did you know that many oils on the market today that have little or no detergents to keep your engine clean? If you are buying oil from a mass merchandiser, you are likely not getting the cleaning power you need, this could lead to decrease performance and increased wear.
- 3. Does my oil have an agent that treats the metal to reduce wear and increase power? *Ours Does! Most oil manufacturers are interested in mass marketing, and miss this point. Our aerospace technology pays for itself 2-3 times the cost of the product, by increasing fuel mileage by 3-5 miles per gallon and decreasing wear by 40%.
- 4. Is my equipment being serviced at the proper intervals? *Many oil suppliers do not have the technical support available to help you put together a good lube program, which results in throwing money away on maintenance and oil costs. Our Tech Support helps our customers put together a good lube program, free of charge!
- 5. Is my grease water resistant? *Ours is! Many greases will not withstand wet surface conditions. If your grease doesn't resist washout it will lead to premature equipment failure
- 6. What Base stock is my grease made from and is it fitted to my application? *We match our customer's grease to their application every time. Are you aware that there are at least 7 different types of base stock used in greases? If you don't make sure that the grease you are using is the best for your application, it could lead to premature equipment failure
- 7. Does my grease contain friction reducing agents? *Ours Does! Here is another point many suppliers miss. This is another application of aerospace technology will save you time, equipment wear, and money.
