Notebook
by
Ida Risser

Lately, I've been privileged to drive in other people's cars to visit my husband in Lancaster General Hospital. Sometimes my children drive, or my sister, or a cousin. Now I do have my own older car and it only has 65,000 miles on it. I tell people that it belongs to a little old lady who only drives to church and the grocery store.

Actually, it does take me for a haircut or to the drug store too. It even goes to a travelogue at a nearby high school. Sometimes we travel to other counties to visit relatives. And, of course to nearby farms.

The car that I first learned to drive was a 1931 Chevrolet that my father bought when his first car was more than 10 years old. I even drove his first car which was a 1923 Overland. In later years it was just driven between our farms. I had to crank it to start it and then lift the hood and manually turn off the gas, when it was not running, as it had a leak. It was an open touring car and had snap-on curtains for bad weather.

At the opposite extreme was the new automobile that I drove home from Michigan. The speed limit was 70 miles per hour there, and after I was back in Pennsylvania, it was difficult to drive slow enough to be under the speed limit.

I do not require much from a car. It simply has to start when I want to go somewhere, and stop when I want to stop. However, my car and my husband's car have similar dashboards, which makes it easy to drive either car.

Apply For Dairy Of Distinction Award By April 15

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Pennsylvania dairy farms are invited to apply for this year's Dairy of Distinction award from the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program. Applications must be submitted by April 15.

The award is based on the idea that attractive farmsteads enhance consumer confidence in the wholesomeness of milk and stimulate milk sales and public support for the industry. Dairies receiving the highest scores in each of 10 Pennsylvania districts will be awarded an 18- by 24-inch Dairy of Distinction sign to display in front of their farm.

"This program is run by volunteers and recognizes the hard work and dedication of dairy producers who promote a positive image for the dairy industry," said Mike O'Connor, secretary of the Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction program and professor of dairy science extension in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

Roadside judging will take place in May. Judges will look at factors that can be controlled by the farmer, such as clean and attractively finished buildings; neat landscaping, ditches, roads and lanes; and well-maintained fences. They also will take into account other aspects of the farm, such as cleanliness of animals, the barnyard, feed areas and manure management.

Winning farms will be notified in late June. Because this is a yearly award, previous winners are reevaluated each year to see if they are still maintaining excellent standards.

To receive an application, call Mike O'Connor at (814) 863-3913 or e-mail him at HYPERLINKmail to. MOCConnor@psu.edu.

Since 1987, Pennsylvania's Dairy of Distinction Program has recognized more than 700 dairy farms. The Pennsylvania program is part of the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program, which also includes New York, New Jersey, and Vermont. Dairies in these states can contact the program secretary in their state for applications.

HOW IS YOUR FARM SCORED?

Awards will be based upon neatness, good maintenance, and other factors, which can be controlled by the farmer. Attractive background scenery should not be weighed heavily in judging. All judging observations should be made from a vehicle at one or more points on an adjacent public highway (or if farm is off the road, the nearest lane). Judging should give equal consideration to old wood construction and new construction of metal or concrete block.

The award program may be used for subsequent advertising or promotion activities for dairy products or dairy farming. Farmers who apply for awards agree that, if selected, they will cooperate with these activities and make all reasonable efforts to maintain both the exterior and interior of their properties in an acceptable condition.

HOW THE JUDGING WORKS

Judging teams will visit the farms during the month of May. Farms will be judged each year as the award is presented on an annual basis. Any dairy failing to maintain appearance standards will be asked to remove their sign. The Dairy of Distinction signs remain the property of the committee, not the property of the dairy farmer. All farms must achieve a compliance score of 90 percent on their Dairy of Distinction score card. Your cooperative or milk handler will be contacted to approve your milk quality.

RULES FOR THE DAIRY OF DISTINCTION AWARD

- 1 The Dairy of Distinction sign remains the property of the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program Committee (NEDFBP).
- 2 The post and bracket shall be supplied by and maintained by the dairy farmer. NEDFBP suggests that a wood post 4" x 4" x 12' or iron pipe 2" x 12' be used. Posts or pipe should be installed and maintained in true vertical position with 8' above ground. Top of the bracket should be lower than six inches from the top of the post. In addition, NEDFBP suggests that the sign be mounted in a frame to provide additional stability.
- 3 The sign shall be displayed in front of the dairy at roadside. An attractive post and bracket, or other frame shall be used to display the sign. No more than three signs should be displayed from the sign frame or post, and all shall be of a style, general size and quality comparable to the Dairy of Distinction sign. The sign should be secured on all sides to avoid wind damage.
- 4 Signs shall not be moved to other premises. New owners of a Dairy of Distinction farm must apply to retain the sign.
- 5 Replacement of damaged signs shall be at the discretion of the committee.
- 6 No producer shall be charged with scoring or sign expenses.
- 7 The judges' decision will be final.
- 8 Judging will take place between May 1 and May 31.
- 9 Farms awarded a Dairy of Distinction sign in previous years will be judged between April 1 and April 30. If they do not qualify they will be rejudged between May 1 and May 31 so they have the opportunity to keep the sign.
- 10 Farms that do not requalify will return the sign to their regional Dairy of Distinction Committee.

Dairy Farmers Support
Special Olympics

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program, the dairy farmer funded checkoff organization serving dairy farmers in western and north-central Pennsylvania, is proud to be a gold sponsor of Special Olympics of Pennsylvania, reaching Olympic viewers with "got milk?" messages.

The winter games took place Feb. 25-28 in the Johnstown area and featured competition in a variety of winter sports. The dairy farmer check-off sponsorship included "got milk?" banners displayed during opening and closing ceremonies, "got milk?" advertising in the official program book, recognition on the Special Olympics of Pa. Web site and on the winter games volunteer shirts.

"PDPP strives to increase the demand for dairy products and recognizes that grassroots promotions, such as the Pa. Special Olympics is a great way to reach our target audiences of mom with kids and kids," says Scott Higgins, CEO for PDPP and the American Dairy Association & Dairy Council Mid East. "Programs like the Special Olympics allow the dairy industry to reinforce the positive message that dairy's powerful package of calcium plus eight key nutrients fuels your body, not just your bones."
