Distribution

WEST BEND, Wis. — HybriForce-400™, the world's first hybrid alfalfa, is now available in Canada. Dairyland Seed has announced that HybriForce-400 has been registered in Canada, and seed is now commercially available in Canada exclusively through Brett-Young Seeds.

"Dairyland Seed is excited to have the opportunity to market this revolutionary alfalfa in Canada," said Tom Strachota, chief executive officer of Dairyland Seed. "HybriForce-400 is as revolutionary as the introduction of Hybrid corn, and increasing its distribution network will benefit Canadian producers."

According to Harold Zibell, portfolio manager for Brett-Young Seeds, growers can look forward to a significant increase in yields.

For Brett-Young Seeds, the launch of HybriForce-400 is another step in the company's commitment to Canadian farmers. Brett-Young Seeds, based in Winnipeg, has served the needs of Canadian farmers since 1934. Today, the company researches, develops, processes, and markets the highest quality canola, forage, and grass seed.

vest Commander™ holds up to 850 bushels (level-full, not heaped) and unloads in 2.3 minutes (375 bu/min). The 850 uses no chains, no sprockets, requires considerably less daily maintenance, and features an improved dual auger unloading system with "On-Demand" positive drive for natural unrestricted grain flow, greater efficiency, and better horsepower utilization.

Undercarriage options include: (a) 30.5"×32" 16-ply tires (R-3 diamond-tread or R-1 lug-type); (b) giant, floater-style SOF-TREDS (66"×43"×25"); or (c) SOF-TRAKS with 24"- or 36"-wide rubber tracks for superior flotation and reduced compaction. Transport width: as narrow as 12' 0" (12' 7" on 850 SOF-TRED); 850 WHEEL and SOF-TRAK tire/track center-to-center spacings are also adjustable (108" or 120").

Also available on WHEEL and SOF-TRED models: an optional Electronic Scale Package with Digi-Star® EZ 2000 Indicator. The printer-ready console can be equipped with a dot-matrix printer or a Data Down Loader Kit for transferring load data. Additional options include a choice of hitch clevises, PTO sizes, or a hydraulic flow gate.
