

"We looked at a Slurrystore® System in 1984 that was constructed here in Somerset Co. It's still in use today. That was a good reason for us to buy a Slurrystore!"

"We built our old semi-solid storage in 1982. We couldn't empty that system very easily. It was a sloppy job."

The Hillgass' new 59' x 24' Slurrystore, completed in early June.

"We thought about a concrete tank, but we didn't like the idea of a gate or moving a pump around to mix the tank.

"We wanted a system that would not leak and we thought that the Slurrystore System was well engineered.

"The Penn Jersey people are really good. They know how to construct a manure system!"
