DENVER (Lancaster Co.) — "This is a super group, but one has popped out as champion all day," said Annette Lovell, who judged the Denver Fair sheep show last week.

Lovell selected Ryan Donough's impressive bred-and-owned ewe for grand champion market honors for style, uniformity, and finish.

Donough, 19, a student at Lancaster's Harrisburg Area Community College, was pleased that his sister Joelynn, 16, showed the reserve grand champion market lamb.

their flock of 20 ewes on the family's Manheim farm, they keep their individual ewes separated but use the same ram.

Joelynn's lamb named Pixel was the grand champion non-sale lamb at Elizabethtown Fair several weeks ago. But Joelynn knew she couldn't coast on that success throughout remaining competitions.

"I knew he (my brother) would beat me out. His lamb is awesome," she said. "But I love mine. I will never sell her."

In breeding sheep competition, Denver Fair selects the best ewe and ram over all breeds. Grand champion ram of the show was a Romney shown by Kellie Graef, 16. It was Kellie's first grand champion overall in her eight years of showing sheep at area fairs near her family's Robeson home. She and her sister raise 24 head of Romneys and Hampshires.

Grand champion ewe was a Suffolk shown by Andrew Gerhart. The Reinholds youth has exhibited champions at several area fairs.

Jimmy Zimmerman showed a Southdown ram and a ewe to take reserve grand championships in both the ram and ewe competition. Both had claimed top placing in Southdown breed competition. Jimmy and his sister Jen have 50-60 head on the family's Reinhold's farm. Championships in other breeds included Hampshire with Jen Hughes showing both grand champion ewe and ram. Jen Zimmerman showed grand champion ewe and ram in the Horned Dorset breed. Natural colored grand champion ram and ewe was shown by Ryan Donough. Oxford grand champion ram and ewe were bred and owned by Joelyn Donough. Kellie Graef's Romney ram and ewe won the breed championship with the ram named best of the show.

Do You Suffer From Fibromyalgia?

When I was introduced to New Image I was 50 pounds over weight and suffered from fibromyalgia I was so depressed and in pain the majority of the time I was taking steroids and four other medications one of which made me so 'groggy' I could hardly get out of bed and another gave me ulcers I began taking New Image secretly because I thought my family would make fun of me After a month, I discovered I had lost eight pounds and seven inches Wow! Then it dawned on me, I was feeling better the depression and pain were gone In two months I was off all medications "I feel SUPERIFIC" Now, two years later I have lost 43 pounds and 30 inches Thank you New Image for giving me a new life again
