Keep Your Best Stock.
Many farmers are in the habit of selling their best animals, as they will bring the highest price. A greater mistake cannot be made. A difference of ten, or even twenty per cent, in the price of a single animal, is a small affair compared with the difference of a whole herd. By keeping the very best to propagate from, the whole may be made of equal excellence, and in the course of a few years numerous animals might be produced, having the excellent properties that now distinguish some few of the best.

POLITICAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.
IT IS VERY CLEAR that all the great elements of the country are against Andrew Johnson. First, the people are against him, as is shown in the result of all the elections where impartial suffrage is the rule. Second, Congress is against him, as is known by the fact that that body has passed all its important measures over his veto. Third, the army is against him, as is seen by the fact that all the great heroes of the war, Grant, Sheridan, Thomas, Sherman, Sickles, Pope, and a galaxy of other brilliant names, all oppose his policy. Truly, the President has only for his supporters the rebels who fought to destroy the Government and the Democracy who sympathized in the effort.

At the recent election in Kentucky one of the candidates was charged with having been in the Union army during the war. As the charge was damaging his prospects he published a card in which he positively denied having had anything to do with the Union army. ## JOHNSON AND STANTON.

Official Correspondence.
The following is an exact copy of the correspondence between the President and Secretary Stanton:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Executive Mansion, Aug. 5, '67.
SIR: Considerations of a high character constrain me to say that your resignation as Secretary of War will be accepted. Very respectfully yours,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

To the Hon E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War.
WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5, '67.
SIR: Your note of this date has been received, stating that public considerations of a high character constrain you to say that your resignation as Secretary of War will be accepted. In reply, I have the honor to say that public consideration of a high character, which alone have induced me to continue at the head of this Department, constrain me not to resign the office of Secretary of War before the next meeting of Congress.

Very respectfully,
EDWIN M. STANTON.
The following is a copy in full of the correspondence between the President, Mr. Stanton and Gen. Grant.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Executive Mansion, Aug. 12, '67.
SIR: By virtue and power of authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States, you are hereby suspended from office as Secretary of War, and will cease to exercise any and all functions pertaining to the same. You will at once transfer to General Ulysses S. Grant, who has this day been authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers and other public property now in your custody and charge.

Very respectfully yours,
ANDREW JOHNSON.
To the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Washington, D. C.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, City, Aug. 12, '67.
SIR: Your note of this date has been received, informing me that by virtue of the power and authority vested in you as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States, I am suspended from office as Secretary of War, and will cease to exercise any and all functions pertaining to the same, and also directing me at once to transfer to General Ulysses S. Grant, who has this day been authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers and other public property now in my custody and charge.

Under a sense of public duty, I am compelled to deny your right under the Constitution and laws of the United States, without the advice and consent of the Senate, and without legal cause, to suspend me from office as Secretary of War, or the exercise of any or all functions pertaining to the same, or without such advice and consent to compel me to transfer to any person the records, books, papers and other public property in my custody as Secretary of War. But inasmuch as the General commanding the armies of the United States has been appointed Secretary of War ad interim, and has notified me that he has accepted the appointment, I have no alternative but to submit under protest to superior force.

Very respectfully yours,
EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.
To the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Executive Mansion, Aug. 12, '67.
SIR: The Hon. Edwin M. Stanton having been this day suspended as Secretary of War, you are hereby authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, and will at once enter upon the discharge of the duties of that office. The Secretary of War has been instructed to transfer to you all records, books, papers and other public property now in his custody and charge. Very respectfully yours,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

General Ulysses S. Grant, Washington, D. C.
General Grant wrote Secretary Stanton a note, indorsing his course as Secretary of War, and commending the ability and patriotism which he has displayed in the War Department.

LATE KENTUCKY ELECTION.

Who and What Triumphed.

The Democratic papers throughout the North are rejoicing at the result of the recent Kentucky election. This is perfectly proper and anything else would be unnatural. The reader will readily understand this when he has read the following extracts from the Washington Herald, dated August 12, 1867:

"We imagine that we will not be suspected of rancor when we make the following assertions. They are so widely known, that it would be 'painting the lily' to accumulate proofs:

1st. John L. Helm, Governor elect, was, during the entire war of rebellion, an undisguised sympathizer with the Confederates. He was more than once arrested by Sherman and Rousseaup, and more than once engaged in open or covert schemes, which looked solely to the benefit of the Rebel Confederacy. He has not during all the long and weary years of war breathed one patriotic aspiration for the national triumph.

2d. John W. Stevenson, Lieutenant Governor elect, has uniformly adhered to the Calhoun school of politics. He has been a true believer in the doctrines of States' Rights, in their broadest and most dangerous interpretation, and an unmediated adherent of John C. Breckinridge. His fealty to the lost cause is beyond question.

3d. John Rodman, Attorney General elect, raised a regiment for service in the Confederate army and left Kentucky with Bragg, in 1862. We have not at hand the details of his military service; but it will not be denied that his heart and soul were in the Confederate cause.

4th. D. Howard Smith, Auditor of State elect, was Colonel of a regiment of Confederate cavalry, and served in the rebel army during the entire war.

5th. James W. Tate, of Frankfort, Treasurer elect, was during the entire war a partisan of the rebellion. The fact is known to every citizen of this place and needs no elaboration.

6th. Z. N. Smith, Superintendent of Public Instruction elect, has always and notoriously held kindly and hopeful views for the Southern Confederacy.

7th. James A. Dawson, Register of the State Land Office, elect, was for a brief space an acting Lieutenant in the Union army. His entire term of Union military duty did not aggregate the number of days employed in the late canvass. Mr. Dawson has been charged with having expressed regret that he ever wore the blue. We have never heard him use the expression—in fact, he has denied it; but his most active energies have, for two years, been used in league with those whom Mr. Dawson knew to be unblushing traitors. We think we might safely state that Mr. Dawson would have preferred seeing the South succeed, to witnessing the incidental overthrow of slavery, in the triumph of the Nation.

Such is a list of candidates which a majority of the people of Kentucky have, at a free poll, elevated to office. The people of the nation are authorized to judge of the populace by their representative men. It is a fair inference that these gentlemen, strung on the cord of a common sympathy for the rebellion, are to be considered the rosary of the Democratic church in Kentucky. Such is our honest belief. Such will be the judgment of all calm minded men.

What, then, is the practical inference? It is that the "lost cause" is found again in Kentucky. That the majority that flinched from shot and shell, are now bold in mere treasonable indorsement. The hands that feared to assault the armed Republic are swift (the danger of life and money past) to become accessories after the fact. The pith of the moral is that Kentucky would to-morrow hail with applause, (not by any means material aid,) a counter-revolution, which would eject Congress from its power and transfer the Federal rule to John C. Breckinridge, Jesse D. Bright, and Isham G. Harris.

The election of Monday last is a demonstration. Practically, it indorses rebellion. Politically, it insures a Republican triumph in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, by greatly increased majorities.

German Baptist churches are multiplying. There are now in the United States and Canada eighty of these churches. Twenty years ago there were only eight.

TRAIN THROWN FROM THE TRACK AND BURNED.—Train Men Slaughtered and Thrown Into the Flames.

CHICAGO, August 7.—A special from Omaha to-day, says a freight train on the Union Pacific Railroad was thrown from the track last night at Plum Creek Station by Indians. The engineer, fireman and brakeman were killed. The merchandise was burned. It is also reported that three or four men at the station were killed. This outrage is supposed to have been committed by "Spotted Tail's" band, who have been feeding at the public expense for some time.

The steamer Silver Lake, arrived from Fort Benton, was fired into by Indians forty miles above Fort Rice, and one of the crew wounded.

Another dispatch says the Indians attacked the freight train near Plum Creek, last night, and threw it from the track by piling ties upon the road, killed and scalped seven train men, set fire to the train, destroying it entirely, and threw the slaughtered bodies into the flames.

AN ITEM WHICH EVERY MAN SHOULD READ.
We have, probably all of us, met with instances in which a word, heedlessly spoken against the reputation of a female, has been magnified by malicious minds until the cloud has been dark enough to overshadow the whole existence. To those who are accustomed, not necessarily from bad motives, but from thoughtlessness, to speak lightly of ladies, we recommend these "hints" as worthy of consideration:

Never use a lady's name in an improper place, at an improper time, or in a mixed company. Never make assertions about her that you think untrue, or allusions that you feel she herself would blush to hear. When you meet with men who do not scruple to make use of a woman's name in a reckless and unprincipled manner, shun them, for they are the very worst members of the community—men lost to every sense of honor, every feeling of humanity.

Many a good and worthy woman's character has been forever ruined and her heart broken by a lie manufactured by some villain, and repeated where it should not have been, and in the presence of those whose little judgment could not deter them from circulating the foul and bragging report. A slander is soon propagated, and the smallest thing derogatory to a woman's character will fly on the wings of the wind, and magnify as it circulates, until its monstrous weight crushes the poor unconscious victim. Respect the name of woman, for your mother and sisters are women, and as you would have their fair name untarnished, and their lives unembittered by the slanderer's bitter tongue, heed the ill that your own words may bring upon the mother, the sister, or the wife of some fellow creature.

APPLES FOR COWS.
Ripe and mellow apples fed carefully to cows, will produce an extra secretion of milk. Sweet apples are doubtless preferable for this purpose to sour; yet the latter, when not too acid, are a valuable feed, and should be given in small quantities as long as they can be preserved sound and free from rot. To apply the produce of the orchard in this way is much more economical than to make it into cider, which, as a beverage to be drunk commonly, often produces very unpleasant consequences, but rarely, if ever, does much good.—Civ. Enquirer.

POETRY.

NO SLAVE BENEATH THE FLAG.

TO THE HON HENRY WILSON, U. S. Senator from Massachusetts, to whose distinguished ability, integrity and firmness for the right in this and many other instances, humanity and the future are so much indebted, these lines are, by his especial permission, most respectfully dedicated.

No slave beneath that starry flag,
The emblem of the free!
No fettered hand shall wield the brand
That smites for Liberty;
No tramp of servile armies
Shall shame Columbia's shore,
For he who fights for Freedom's rights
Is free forevermore!

No slaves beneath those glorious folds
That o'er our fathers flew,
When every breath was dark with death,
But every heart was true!
No serfs of earth's old empires
Knelt 'neath its shadow then;
And they who now beneath it bow
Forevermore are men!

Go tell the sales of the braves
Who at Port Hudson fell;
Go tell the dust whose holy trust
Stern Wagner guards so well;
Go breathe it softly—slowly—
Whenever the patriot slaves
For right has bled, and felt the dead
He fills a FREEMAN'S GRAVE!

Go tell Kentucky's bondsmen true,
That he who fights is free!
And let the tale fill every gale
That floats o'er Tennessee!
Let all our mighty rivers
The story southward pour,
And every wave tell every slave
To be a slave no more!

Go tell the brave of every land,
Where e'er that flag has flown—
The tyrant's fear, the patriot's cheer,
Through every clime and zone—
That now no more forever
His stripes are Slavery's scars;
No tear-drops stain its azure plain,
Nor dim its golden stars!

No slave beneath that grand old flag!
Forever let it fly!
With lightning rolled in every fold,
And flashing victory;
Go, its blessing breathe around it;
And when all strife is done,
May Freedom's light, that knows no night
Make every star a sun!

THE Negro being found not available, Mr. Nooby and his followers decide to go back on Illinois—A Meeting, the Effect of which was reported by Pollock, the Illinois Store-keeper, and Joseph Bigler, Late C. S. A.

POST OFFICE, CONFIDENTIAL X ROADS,
(Which is in the State of Ky.,
July 28, 1867.)

The speulashen in wool, into which the Dimocriy uv the South embark some months ago, he regret to say, resulted disastrously. The nigger ain't fitted for co-operation with the Dimocriy. Instid uv hangin on to us like the ivy onto the oak, he diskickered that, in the South at least, he was really the oak and we the ivy; instid uv lookin up to us, he contracted a disagreeable habit uv lookin down onto us. There wuz other reasons why he couldn't be made available for our uses, and therefore it was decided to go back onto the Afrikin, and to agin attempt his reduekshen to as near his normal speerch the abnormal condishun uv the times wood admit. The directors uv the college met and changed the name uv the Instistoshn bank to the "Southern Military and Classike Institoot," and the Corners wuz itself agin.

Deekin Pogram lookt ez the ten years hed bin lifted off him. "How pleasant 'tis," sed he, "to walk erect agin in front uv a nigger, and to pass ez tho they wuz niggers!—Oh of I could only wallop one wuzt more me thinks I could die happy!"

We hed a meetin last nite to consider this nigger question, which wood hev resulted in great good and hed a powerful infloence toward strengthening the hands uv our brethren in the North, who are fightin the heresy uv nigger suffrage, hed it not bin for that irration-shen, Pollock, and that pest, Joe Bigler. I hed made my reglar speech on the nigger and with much effect. I hed quoted from somebody's quotashen from Agassiz, wick demonstrated the radicle difference there is between the Afrikin and the proud Caucashun; arguin from the length uv his heel and arm, the thickness of his skull and so forth, that the nigger wuz totally unfit to exercise the ritos uv free men. I wuz applauded vociferously and by none more than Pollock and Joe Bigler. Ez I took my seat and wuz a wipin the perspiration from my classike brow, feelin that I hed settled that question, Pollock riz and desired to say a few words and make a suggestion. Sed he:

"I hev listened with interest to the eloquent speaker and am happy to say I hev learned fax wick is new to me. Ef I hev ever doubted the inferiority of the nigger them doubts are removed, pervidin alluz, that if the statements of the speaker is true, uv wick I hev no doubt, ez the character uv the speaker is a sufficient guarantee for the truth uv wickhever he sez."

I bowed stately like, with the air uv one to whom such compliments wuz a every day affair, wick they ain't by no means, on the contrary quite the reverse.

And, still under the infloence uv Bigler's eye, he answered "No!" "Kin you cipher?"

"What in the thunder's the yoose uv cipherin when the old man alluz kep a nigger to do his figgerin?" "Set down, Issaker. We're done with you. There's an error somewher. The nigger's capassity uv skull is less by several cubic inches, but he seems to hev used wat he hev lively. But it's all rite, Parson. Issaker shed vote and the nigger shant. Readin and writin never wuz a qualification for votin down here, any way. Possibly the seat uv the intellek is in the heel instead uv the brain, wick accounts for the nigger's hevvin the most uv it."

And Pollock and Bigler and the niggers present left the meetin house, laffin uproariously and throwin all sorts uv adooos back to us.

I doubt whether the result uv the investigashen will help our friends North. The fact is, it wuz overdone. It was carried to fur. There is a pint of which facts ought to stop—Dime-kraatic facts in partikular. In this investigation the shood never hev bin carried beyond the heel. Hed it stoop there, we wood hev hed em. But carryin it to the Radical pint Bigler and Pollock took it, the foundashen we built wuz upset and we are all at sea agin. Wood, oh! wood that we wuz red uv these jerein finatics.
