Sewing Machines. THE WORLD RENOWNED SINGER SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE. Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regarding time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best sewing machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful in appearance, and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either silk, linen or cotton thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and an abundance between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Ticking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adapted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood and the like, and from the most elaborate patterns and finished—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes. 1st. You can sew anything from the finest silk to the thickness of Serice or Satin to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility from No. 20 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost noiseless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in stitching.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It uses perfect feed whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stretched to prevent its "pucker" and you never have to assist the work through as in all other machines.

8th. It will hem any width, sew a straight seam, or make a fell in the most perfect manner, with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Its attachments for Binding, Cording, Quilting, and Ticking, are, are novel and practical, and require but little skill to use them.

9th. Careful instructions given at the house of the Purchaser.

Money refunded if the machine are not as represented.

Every machine warranted and kept in repair three years without charge.

GRAMMAR IN RHYME. We advise every little grammarian, just entering on the study, to commit to memory the following lines, and then they never need mistake a part of speech. The author, whoever he is, deserves immortality. With but one exception—Thirty days hath September.—It is the most poetical definition we ever met with—

1. Three little words you often see, Are articles, a, an and the.

2. A Noun's the name of any thing, As school or garden, log or wing.

3. Adjectives tell the kind of Noun, As great, small, pretty, white, or brown.

4. Instead of Nouns the Pronouns stand—Her head, his face, your arm, my hand.

5. Verbs tell of something to be done—To read, count, sing, laugh, jump, or run.

6. How things are done the Adverbs tell, As slowly, quickly, ill or well.

7. Conjunctions join the words together, As men and women, wind or weather.

8. The Preposition stands before A Noun, as of or through a door.

9. The Interjection shows surprise, As Ah! how pretty—Oh! how wise.

The whole are called Nine Parts of Speech, Which reading, writing, speaking, teach.—A. Munnell.

THE OBSCENE DEMOCRACY. The suppression of obscene, immoral and disgusting literature would strike out of existence half the Democratic journals in the country. Next to the prohibition of liquor-selling, it would be the hardest blow that could be given to the party. The most widely circulated and most admired Democratic paper now printed is the obscene and blasphemous La Crosse Democrat. That paper, more than any other, awakes the sympathies, and expresses the opinions of the party. It has heaped upon the memory of Abraham Lincoln, outrage that would be tolerated in no other country under heaven; it pursues Christian associations and temperance societies with the venom of a thousand copperheads rolled into one; it scoffs at religion, mocks at virtue, defies God, and voids its filthy rheim upon everything that good men respect or hold sacred. Under the law for the suppression of obscene prints, this paper cannot openly circulate in New York. And we have at home, also, pestilential prints only less infamous because less able; the admirers of Brick Pomeroy are many, his imitators few; like Satan in hell he stands among them in shape and gesture proudly eminent. These remarks apply also to casual publications, those yellow covered books and photographs of nude women that are hawked around railroad stations, hotels, and grog-shops by low-browed, sinister looking members of the party. This stuff is peculiarly relished and patronized by Democrats. It is a manifestation of their idea of liberty of the press. As the grog-shop is the Democratic nursery, so these bawdy publications are their fairy stories. Then, too, there is the half-dressed style of Democratic literature, the startling pictorial story—Police Gazettes, Sensations, Life in Boston, and papers of the kind that no man having the least regard for decency would take in his family; these, too, fall under the interdict of obscenity, and in just such as their circulation is diminished will the Democratic party suffer. If full grown Democrats choose to grovel in a nasty style of obscenity and blasphemy, we presume they cannot be entirely prevented; but society has the right—and we hope the power—to say "You shall not launch your children with such stuff; you are past redemption—go your ways; but the rising generation are the proteges of the State, and it is the will of the government that they shall be kept as free as possible from contamination, so far as law can secure that end."—N. Y. Tribune.

A Love-Letter. FROM A TAILOR TO HIS SWEET-HEART, A MANUFACTURER. REMNANT OF MY HOPES—May I be ripped from the border of your esteem, and never be buttoned to the loop of your kindness but I am strongly scamed to them by your beauty. May I never lose a thimbleful of your favor but you have entangled the thread of my understanding with that pretty outside of yours. Odds bodkin! I am surely yours every inch of me—and my needle follows you. Therefore blunt not the point of my endeavors, but let me baste my self to your kindness that I may set the tighter to your affections; I love you beyond measure, but it is so hard to cabbage one look from you that I almost despair of having enough to finish my suit. Pray put a favorable construction on this, and for the same I shall always sit cross-legged for your sake, being, my dear little flounce, your CABBAGE.

Great Men. Homer was a beggar; Plautus turned a mill; Terence was a slave; Becthies died in jail; Paul Borgheese had fourteen trades, yet starved with them all; Tasso was often distressed for a few shillings; Curvantis died of hunger; Camens, the writer of "Lusaid," ended his days in an alms house; and Vangelas let his body to the surgeons to pay for his debts. In England, Bacon lived a life of meanness and distress; Sir Walter Raleigh died on the scaffold; Spencer died in want; Milton sold his copyright of "Paradise Lost" for £15, and died in obscurity; Dryden lived in poverty and distress; Otway perished of hunger; Lee died in the streets; Steele was in perpetual warfare with the bailiffs; Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield" was sold for a trifle, to save him from the grasp of the law.

WHEN South Carolina pass ordinance of secession, in December, 1860, she invited Gen. Ripley, a native of Ohio, to take command of her forces and establish her lines of attack against Fort Sumter. Now that she is rebuilding her institutions on the basis of freedom, she has elected Gen. R. K. Scott, another native of Ohio, as her first Governor under her new and purified constitution.
