DENTISTRY.
I have located in Waynesburg, and am continuing the late residence of Dr. J. P. Putnam. Having taken great pains to become thoroughly acquainted with the city, and the practice of dentistry, and having had an experience of seven years in the profession, I feel warranted in saying that my patients shall receive no less than the best of interior operations. Extraction will be performed painlessly, when desired, by the administration of "Laughing Gas," or other anesthetic.
Charges moderate, and all operations warranted as represented. I will be at home without appointment from the fifteenth to the thirtieth of every month. J. S. HERTZ.

INSIDE A PRINTING OFFICE.
The composing room of a printing office is about as productive of various questions, and elicits as much curiosity from visitors as any place of business we know of.
The first thing a visitor does, is to step up to the case where fingers are at work and watch every motion with perfect steadiness; looks mysterious and questions follow about like this:
"How do you know where to find the letters? Are they arranged in order? How do you know when they are right side up? What is the reason that there is more type in some boxes than the others? I should think you would make mistakes; you ought to have your boxes marked? Don't you get the wrong letters sometimes?" Looking around he spies in a corner a lot of "something" that calls forth; "what are these?"
Compositor—"Quads."
Visitor—"What's quads?" Compositor explains.
Next finds the forms which another person is distributing.
Visitor—"Tearing 'em down, eh?" Compositor—"Yes."
"Can you do that faster than you can set? What makes you wet the type? (Looking at the form) Why it's all up side down! Is that the way it always is? You can't read it can you?"
Next goes around the press and finds the roller, puts his fingers on it, and gets them dyed a shade or two darker than their original color.
What's this roller made of, india rubber?
Compositor—"No, of glue and molasses." Visitor—"Of molasses! I should think it would melt." Compositor—"It will when it gets warm enough."
His next fall is upon the paper wet down, ready for press.
Visitor—"Why this paper is all wet!
Do you have to do that?"
Compositor—"Yes."
Visitor—"What for?"
Compositor explains and wishes he would dry up.
He looks around and finds a form of advertisements laid aside. He runs his finger over a column and knocks a whole square of it into confusion. Compositor crosses, and says, "you've knocked that into it." Visitor whistles and goes out when compositor is not looking.
Extract from the Democratic Bible.
The following audacious justification of cold-blooded murder and treason appears in that leading Copperhead journal, the La Crosse Democrat:
"Do you blame us when we say that that God was just in sending John Wilkes Booth on that dark Good Friday night, three years ago, the darkest and gloomiest in American history, to strike the traitor down, and liberate the white freemen of America from the yoke of a despot? God is just. He struck the tyrant Lincoln from existence at an hour when the country could no longer bear the burden of him; and God, in his wisdom, cannot let the free people of America, whom he has so protected and prospered, long remain chafing under the rule of any despot."
A Witness.
A Yankee, having told an Englishman that he shot, on one particular occasion, nine hundred and ninety-nine snipes, his interlocutor asked him why he didn't make it a thousand at once.
"No," said he, "not likely I'm going to tell a lie for one snipe." Whereupon the Englishman rather riled, and determined not to be undone, began to tell a long story of a man having swam from Liverpool to Boston.
"Did you see?" said the Yankee.
"Well, of course I did. I was coming over, and our vessel passed him a mile out of Boston harbor."
"Well, I'm glad you saw him, stranger, because you're a witness that I did it.
That was me."

THE Irish Republic, speaking of Banks' bill for the protection of American citizens in foreign countries, passed on the 30th ult., says: "What Democracy has failed to do in fifty years, Republicanism has done in seven. Let our people stand by the men who are true to liberty. Let them respond to this action of the Republican Congress and cast their ballots for the next Republican candidate for the Presidency. It matters not whether he may be Grant, Greeley, Wade, Colfax, &c., they are all men pledged to the glorious principles of Republican liberty."
The Democrats are furious at beholding on every hand the manifest indications that under Grant the country is to be permanently restored, and the Republican principles, made dominant over every portion of the country.
They are greatly in want of comfort.
They seek it morning, noon, and night; but they find it not. Won't somebody hold their splitting heads, cool their fevered brows, soothe their anxious hearts, and quiet their perturbed spirits? Poor fellows, with inevitable defeat staring them in the face, they are in a bad way.—Star and Sentinel.
A Kansas Call, 1887.
Once an attorney for the defence took his cigar from his mouth, and behind a huge puff of smoke objected to certain testimony on the other side as inadmissible. The justice gravely replied:
"The Court sustains the objection and rules that the question cannot be asked at this stage of the game." The inference was, that "the court" played poker.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR, ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTS.
This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the war yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the footsteps of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.
To a public that has been surprised with AP-PARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and readable, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.
The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.
One agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.
One in Boston, Mass. 103 subscribers in four
