MARRIED.

On Tuesday morning the 28th inst., at the "Merrill House," by Rev. F. Benedict, Mr. WILLIAM MORTIMORE, and Miss CATHERINE WEICHD, both of West Providence township, Bedford Co.

DIED.

On the 18th ult., at the residence of Daniel Beam, in Bedford Township, Miss CATHERINE BEAM, aged 55 years.

When first my wandering spirit came This trial-world of ours to know, The joys of youth and flowers of hope Combined to gladden all below.

But years passed rapidly away, My paths of pleasure turned to pain, Which told me of the sunnier way, Unless his spirit break the chain.

To God my heart in secret prayer To keep me from the power of sin; In secret he with mercy heard And gave me peace and joy within.

Now I am dead, my spirit free, Leaves, joyous leaves, this world of woe, Afflictions may come no more to me, In that bright world to which I go.

Farewell, dear friends, a fond adieu; A happier home 'twas mine above, Where gladly I would join with you To rest in Christ and dwell in love.

B. F. RASSBORN.

In this Borough, on Saturday morning last, after an illness of only a few hours, WILLIAM MILBURN, son of Mr. John Crouse, in the 5th year of his age. He was a smart and very interesting child.

"Death came when least expected nigh, And in a moment bore away Thy lovely boy to realms on high, To dwell in an eternal day.

Oh! would ye wish him back on earth, To linger on this dreary shore? No, not! he's gained a heavenly birth— He lives! he lives! to do no more!"

TORCHING.—The Boston Traveller, of Saturday evening last, says that when the Arctic was about to sink, and after the boats had pushed as far from the vessel as possible, to prevent being drawn into the vortex, which it was known would draw everything near, Mr. Comstock, of Rhode Island, was seen to jump into the water and swim towards the boat which contained, among others, Mr. C. T. Mitchell, of Charleston, S. C., to whom he was well known. Recognizing him in the boat, Mr. Comstock called to him. "Have you room for another man?" to which the reply was, "No; we are almost sinking now!" He then threw up his hands, exclaimed, "Good God! tell my wife and five children I am gone!" and was seen no more.

MECHANICAL SUPPORTS.

I desire to invite the attention of the public to a few words in regard to these appliances in the cure of various diseases in which drugs and medicines can be of but little use; and if the common sense of the community will but examine thoroughly what I say, I am disposed to believe that they, as well as myself, will be benefited. The principal mechanical supports used in the cure of disease, are known by the names of abdominal supporters, body braces, and shoulder braces. The first of these are used to give strength and support to the lower part of the body, when there is weakness and relaxation of the abdominal muscles; and where this weakness and relaxed condition exist, it induces many diseases, not of the region affected only, but also of the upper part of the body, which droops and drags for want of tone and power of these muscles—then these are weakened, and the bowels press downwards, the diaphragm, the liver, stomach, lungs, and other organs of the upper portion of the trunk, must likewise drag from their places, and disease of those organs ensue.

If these organs are displaced, you have functional disease already, which, if not arrested, must end in organic lesions of the parts, that is beyond the power of medicine to cure—for no astringents, either local or internal, can contract them to their proper locality. A properly fitted supporter or body brace will do this; will prop and sustain the pendant and dragging viscera, until nature restores them; here, medicines to aid and strengthen, will be proper, under the advice of a physician. A well fitted brace or supporter not only supports and presses upwards the contents of the trunk, but also supports the back, presses inwards the spinal column at the small of the back, and gives it additional strength by its bracing, by its giving as it were an assistant spinal column. I have known many cases of disease cured by the supporter alone, without any medicine; but do not understand me to say that medicine should never be given—the majority of cases require it—but the physician having charge of the case will be the best judge, as to the kind and when it should be given. The Shoulder Brace is used not so much for support as to bring the body into a true position; the hollow-chested, the contracted, narrow-chested persons, should never use suspenders; their tendency is to pull the shoulders forward and make the chest hollow, and the back humped. The suspender shoulder brace, which I use, obviates all this, as it suspends the pantaloons by straps that pass from under the arm-pits; and, when persons once become used to them, are not at all uncomfortable. Hundreds of persons, I doubt not, could be greatly improved in health and strength by the use of my shoulder brace; all who stoop much, or bend writing at desks, would be greatly benefited by them. Women who are burdened with heavy skirts, tied around the spine, would find great relief from my suspender shoulder brace. I should like to extend this article to a greater length, but am fearful that I will occupy too much of your space. I may, however, resume the subject at another time.

No. 140 Wood st.

JOY FOR THE INVALID.—We cut the following from the Philadelphia Saturday Gazette, and recommend our readers to peruse it carefully, and those suffering should not delay purchasing.

DR. HOOLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—This celebrated medicine, prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON, at the imposing German Medicine Store, No. 120 ARCH street, is exciting unprecedented public attention, and the proprietor, who is a scientific physician, is selling immense quantities of it. The virtues of this remedy are so fully set forth in the extended notice of it, to be seen in our advertising columns, that there is hardly any room left for us to speak of it. This much we may add—Of the long train of physical ills to which humanity is heir, there is none more distressing than general derangement of the digestive apparatus, which never fails to accompany a disordered state of the liver. Headache, piles, languor, fretfulness, a bilious tongue, a morbid, bad breath, loss of appetite—in short, an insupportable wretchedness of existence, are its insufferable and life-wasting attendants. These diseases, which have baffled the skill of the ablest Doctors, have been radically cured by Hooland's German Bitters.—See advertisement.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART. Nervous Diseases, Liver Complaint, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Costiveness and Piles, are all relieved and cured in an incredible short space of time, by Carter's Spanish Mixture, the great tonic and purifier of the blood. It contains not a particle of Mercury, Opium, or any noxious drugs; is perfectly harmless, and has cured more than two hundred cases of disease. We can only refer the reader to the certificates, a few of which may be found in another column, and all of which are detailed in full around the bottle. It is the greatest of all Spring and Blood Medicines, and possesses an influence over the blood truly remarkable. See advertisement.

STRAY COW. Came to the premises of the subscriber, living in Bedford Township, about the middle of November last, a large Brindle Cow, two white spots on hind legs—no marks—supposed to be about five years old. The owner is desired to take her away, prove property, pay charges, and take her away.
