ATTEMPTED MUNDER AT EAST BOSTON .- Ahout three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, a Swede, named John Schroeder, called at Police Station No. 7, (East Boston) and handed to Captain Seaver a note containing a request to Captain S. to send an officer with Schroeder to house No. 90 London street, where his wife was living with another man. The object of the visit was stated to be to obtain his own portrait which was in the wife's possession. Officer Gould was accordingly sent with Schroeder. Upon seeing the man's wife, ho made known their errand, in answer to which, she stated that she had not seen the portrait for three years, and did not know where it was.

Schroeder immediately accused her of her dereliction from duty and applied unseemly epithets to her. She dropped her head and cast her eyes upon the floor, when he suddenly drew a pistol and discharged the contents at her, but fortunately missed his mark, and was immediately seized and secured by an officer. The pistol was heavily charged with powder and three balls or slugs, all of which just passed over her head, and were buried in the ceiling. The officer took the pistol from him and conducted him back to the Station House, where he was observed to put his hand in his bosom, as if feeling for another weapon. He was seized, and on searching him another double

> GREAT SUFFERING IN THE WEST .- United -The following is an extract from a private letter received in this city by the editor of the Military Argus :

FORT PIERCE, N. T., Saturday, March 15, 1856 .- A most horrible affair happened between here and Sioux City in December last, which is almost too hideous to relate. Three soldiers and Prussia officially notified the Germanic diet named Bigart, Wicker and Cornell, deserted from Companies D and H, Second Dragoons, about the first of December, and started down the river. On their way they overtook four red to the committee on Eastern affairs. It is persons from this place, who were proceeding in the same direction, and as self-preservation suggested the idea of strength in numbers, they mutually agreed to travel in company. Up to this time, and for some ten or twelve days after their junction, the weather had been remarkably mild and pleasant. A few days after, however, heavy snows, accompanied with intense cold, set in, which continued with but little intermission for thirty or forty days, during which time but little progress was made. At length their scanty stock of provisons gave out, and starvation seemed inevitable, for they were at least two hundred miles in a direct line from zette. the nearest settlement.

For six days, without a particle of food, they continued their course down the river, but made very little progress towards their destination .-Under these accumulated sufferings the soldier named Cornell died, and the others, to appease their hunger, cut up his body and eat his flesh. The following night one of the civilians died, ged, for the advantages which the treaty grants and his body was disposed of in like manner. On the succeeding night two more of the civilians died, but, as the party was discovered shortly after, the living were spared the necessity of making any further meals upon the dead bodies of their companions.

They were found by a part of Major Howe's command, and when first discovered they were regaling themselves upon the arms and legs of their unfortunate companions. The survivors were taken to Major Howe's camp, and under proper care and attention have all recovered .-Milwaukie Sentinel.

INVITED TO A BUZZARD FEAST.

Know Nothing editors, if they can boast of no other qualities, can at least "brag" on being possessed of a good stock of impudence. The appeals they are now making to the old line Whigs for aid, is as amusing as it is heartless and impudent. But a few months since, Sam was in his glory, and the editors in his interest were kept busy chronicling Know Nothing victories. The character of this desperate faction and the objects of its leaders had not been divulged, and the people, for a short time, were inluced to put faith in Sam and his minions .-But in every State and every county where Know Nothingism has been tried, it has been condemned and repudiated. Sam's victorious legions have been routed on every field, of late, and the Democracy of the country-for a time under a cloud-are again in the ascendant, and in most of the States are stronger than ever .-That the old line Whigs, we say, have contributed, in many instances, to aid the Democratic party, and thus crush out the fell spirit of bigotry and intolerance, is well known and gratefully acknowledged. Because the old line Whigs have pursued this course-because, feeling themselves as a party helpless and powerless-they have aided the Democratic Party rather than Know Nothingism, they are abused and flattered in turns, by the papers of the Know Nothing party. We have two papers of that faction now before us. These men will have no candidates of their own to vote for this fall, and have a perfect right to support who they please, and certainly they have too much grit and pride of character to vote for the who murdered the Whig party. They will not, we feel satisfied, accept the invitation now given them by the Know Nothings, who, not very long ago, boasted that their party had arisen from the ruins of the old parties, and scouted the Whig party as dead beyond the hope of esurrection. A pretty invitation, truly !-Whigs invited to a buzzard's feast to help devour the carcass of the Whig party, and swallow down the remnant of it by amalgamation with Know Nothingism-all of which intended for the exclusive benefit of the secret order. Dear Sir-It is with much pleasure that I take this opportunity of informing you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of a few bottles of "Hoof-land's German Bitters." For a number of years I have been sorely and severely afflicted with a pain in the stomach, attended by severe attacks of the Piles, for which I tried a great many remedies, but without affording me any relief. Being advised to use the German Bitters, I did so, using in connexion, for the Piles, your Spikenard Cintment, and I now inform you that they have entirely cured me and restored me to health, and I would advise all the afficted to use your valuable medicines, &c

Respectfully yours, MARGARET REPSHER, No. 45 Plum street, Camden, N. J. Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. See advertisement.
