

them out or cast them off without care as to what becomes of them. It was that which made Massachusetts cling to Mr. Webster; North Carolina to William Gaston; South Carolina to Mr. Calhoun, and to her other heroes, William Lowndes, a representative from Carolina, whom it was her pride to send to the halls of Congress, men of peaceful, gentle civility, and which bound Kentucky, by devotion that never abated, to Mr. Clay. And now when, for the first time for seventy years, a Pennsylvania statesman is named for the highest honor in a nation's gift, have we not a right to say, is it not our duty—to avoid the throbbing of the same pure sentiment in our heart? If the habit of easy self-sacrifice, the readiness to be content with small honors and subordinate offices, which has so long been the discredit and shame of Pennsylvania—all these have not chilled to absolute indifference every natural emotion of honest pride in our bosom, this Commonwealth will speak out for her honored son in tones which will not soon die away to silence—and from no part of her feelings and opinions on points of public policy be moderately respected, will there be a stronger and bolder utterance than from this, her whig metropolis.

But there is an actual political significance in these nominations—that of Mr. Breckinridge, as well as that of the President, as respects locality—that cannot be overlooked. It is no extreme of territory that furnish the candidates. They come from the middle States—from the very centre of the Union; for Kentucky, strictly speaking, is no longer a western State. They are the representatives of that central band which encircles the Union, and which, if ever the Union is severed, must break asunder in ragged edges to tear and wound by the animosity of frontier warfare. Kentucky and Pennsylvania, though with different social institutions, are of the same political parallel of consideration on all national questions, and of unwavering fidelity to the constitution and the Union. Pennsylvania is one of the Old Thirteen, and Kentucky is their oldest child—at least their first-born beyond the Allegheny mountains. The beautiful river which washes the shores of Kentucky, and on which floats the friendly commerce of so many United States, is termed of Pennsylvania streams. Fanaticism has not, and never has had, a foothold in Pennsylvania, except, perhaps, near the New York line, or on the edge of the Western Reserve; and Kentucky has never sent a child of her honor and self into the councils of the nation, whose words or wounds gave pain, or alienated the hearts of patriotic men, however sensitive, either from the South or the North. The candidates thus selected have a high mission. They have immediate constituencies who have trained them in the school of constitutional loyalty; and that mission, as I religiously hope, (and for this I look to Mr. Buchanan's election with unbounded confidence,) is to put an end, by wise and decisive counsel, and by administrative discretion, once and forever, to that sectional agitation which has so long afflicted and perplexed this nation. What a priceless blessing it will be to have an administration for four years, during which, by the mere force of example, no word of acrimony shall be uttered on the subject of domestic slavery, and the nation's evil passions may be at rest!

These, my fellow-citizens, are some of the reasons which influence my judgment and conduct now. They are not meant to be obtrusively uttered anywhere, or to be offensively urged on those who may think differently from me. These are other topics, rather relating to the past than to the future, I should be glad to speak of, but this is not the fit occasion. On them, and especially on the anti-republicanism of great political organization, my views are well known, for I spoke them long ago, when, as now, final counsellers advised silence. On all public matters I am apt to feel strongly and to speak decisively, but I have sought in what I have said to-night to utter no word to give pain or excite unpleasant feeling anywhere. I have tried to feel and speak, on a great question of political interest, as an American public man should think and speak, and from the bottom of my heart, Mr. President and fellow-citizens, I thank you for the opportunity you have just given me of speaking out what I really believe to be, if it is not now, the true policy of Philadelphia.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE OLD LINE WHIGS.—WHITHER MUST THEY GO?

Nothing can be more venomous than the spite which the self-styled "Republicans" manifest towards those able and patriotic men who, having heretofore ranked high as whigs, feel bound not only by the sentiment of duty and every feeling of nationality, but by every dictate of real consistency, to cooperate now with the Democratic party. The questions of highest moment, upon which these dividers with the Democracy were made to hinge, have long been settled, and nothing to call forth any dispute; why may they not, without any hesitation, act with us in giving assent to this, the most common cause of the Constitution and the Union? Are they not entitled to the more credit for rising above those petty jealousies, envies, or animosities which the minor champions of partisanship cherish, and for courageously joining the only political organization which presents any prospect of success for those principles upon which the Union was founded, and by which alone it can be perpetuated?

These Whigs who have given dignity and power to their party by genius, patriotism, public integrity, and personal character always boasted of their loyalty to the Union and to the securities which the constitution throws around the rights of the States. That loyalty found expression in many a grave and monumental debate, in many a popular harangue, in many an inspired ode, still declared by school-boys and sung at clubs. Where, then, can they be during the contest now impending, both on the side of nationality, against sectional bigotry and fanaticism, and on the side of the Union, against the Whigs, with what shade of consistency can Whigs, animated by any regard for the principles of Washington, and Clay, or of Webster, give their countenance to the action that usurps the name of "Republican" to the Democratic policy, and practices, utterly at variance with the peace of the States, and inevitably leading to distrust, alienation, discord, and civil strife? They are not left to speculate upon the treatment they have to expect at the hands of the Black Republicans, however, should they decline to join in the struggle against the rights, interests, and feelings of the South.

Of all the factions that have ever risen in this country, these Black Republicans constitute the most intolerant and despotic. With an acerbity of temper, only equalled by want of tact and utter disregard of the ties which should attach American citizens to every part of their glorious country, they would ostracize every man, whatever may have been his public services, and however high may be his personal worth, who will not join in their insane course.

Every county, city, and village in the Northern States are, doubtless, exhibit examples of some species of proscription by these pseudo-Republicans, against men whose only crime is that they still support the Southern States entitled to all the rights and honors of other members of this Union, and the Southern people worthy of affection, respect and esteem. What affliction can the honest Whigs of the "old line times" have with such a crew?

It is quite manifest that these old line men, most respectable by weight of character, purity of purpose, and disinterested patriotism, will be found fighting side by side, and shoulder to shoulder, with the Democracy in the coming contest.

NOTICE.

The following notes from the pen of a brave soldier, well known to our citizens, and we take the liberty of publishing it, because we know his numerous friends in Bedford will read it with deep interest:

St. Louis, Mo., June 6, 1856.

Dear General!—Allow me to address you for the purpose of congratulating you on account of the honor which has this day been conferred on your noble State. While I write these lines the cannon's roar announces to the country that Democracy has selected her strongest champion for standard bearer in the coming political contest. That at the present time of sectional strife, the Old Keystone State should present her "favorite son," and rejoice in seeing him so heartily adopted as a candidate for the Presidency, is certainly a good omen that the Federal arch will be kept together in its pristine strength and glory.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

CHAS. BECKER,
Serg't Major 6th Infantry.

Gen. G. W. BOWMAN.

Mr. Buchanan Informed of His Nomination.—The Committee of the National Convention, consisting of Gen. Ward, of Georgia, Gov. Brown, of Mississippi, M. Forsyth, of Missouri, Mr. Preston, of Kentucky, Mr. Hibbard, of New Hampshire, Mr. Manning, of South Carolina, and Gov. Lawrence, of Rhode Island, accompanied by a number of personal friends of Mr. Buchanan, visited Wheatland on Friday to inform Mr. Buchanan of his nomination. In the discharge of the duty Gen. Ward presented Mr. B. a letter informing him of his nomination, accompanied with a few appropriate remarks, which were replied to in a happy manner by Mr. Buchanan, who informed the Committee that a more full reply would be given them in writing. The company, consisting of about fifteen persons, then sat down to a sumptuous dinner prepared for the occasion.

Missouri Elected.—The St. Louis Democrat, the organ of the Benton Democrats, exults heartily in support of Buchanan and Breckinridge. This is right, and Democratic. It is the duty of every man, who calls himself a Democrat, to abide by the decision of the National Convention and support its nominees, and we are glad to see that the Benton Democrats of Missouri, spite of all alleged causes of complaint, intend to support the ticket with hearty enthusiasm.

THE BROOKS AND SUMNER TROUBLE.—The Select committee of the United States Senate to whom was referred the investigation of the outrage committed by Mr. Brooks upon Senator Sumner, have made a report, which was adopted by the Senate, with only one dissenting vote. The report represents that the assault upon Mr. Sumner was a violation of the Senate's privileges, yet that the Senate has no jurisdiction, but the House, of which Mr. Brooks is a member, to punish him. The Senate will make complaint to the House and leave the redress to that body. We have no doubt that if the House was left to its own unbiased judgment upon this matter, that it would properly express its condemnation of the unwarrantable assault upon Mr. Sumner. But the frenzy of party will not allow this.

Sectional animosity must be assuaged to a pitch of madness by the infuriated comments of fanatics. One howls, the other curses, until public decency and order are a thousand times more outraged by this coarseness than by the brutal attack upon Sumner. Such violence, such intemperance and malicious rage degrades its authors and defeats the ends of justice.

"THE KEYSTONE STATE" BUCHANAN CLUB.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania temporarily residing in the city of Washington, and all other Pennsylvanians who are in favor of and desire to co-operate to promote the election in the Presidency of the United States of the distinguished Statesman "Pennsylvania's Favorite Son," are requested to meet on Monday evening next, June 9, at 7 o'clock, at the residence of Hon. Thos. B. Florence, northeast corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 17th street, to adopt measures to enter warmly into the campaign by the formation of a Pennsylvania Democratic Buchanan Club, and having for its object the preparation and distribution of such documents and "facts for the people" as will promote the dissemination of wholesome democratic truths. Let there be a full attendance of the sons of the "Old Keystone," which promises a round majority of 50,000 for James Buchanan.

The Louisville Times is endeavoring to prove that Millard Fillmore is a "Black Republican." When the editor gets through with this little job, it is supposed they will proceed to show that George Washington was a traitor and St. Paul a rascal.—Philadelphia News.

TO THE FARMERS.

The undersigned informs the farmers of Bedford and adjoining counties, that he has made arrangements by which he can furnish, to those desiring, the latest improved and best AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS of the day, embracing Scott's "Little Giant" Corn and Cob Grinder, guaranteed to grind from 8 to 15 bushels of feed per hour with one horse—Potts' Corn Stalk Cutter and Crasher, warranted to cut from 120 to 160 bushels of feed per hour—Hay and Straw Cutters, in variety—Wheat Drills and Corn Shellers, which are unsurpassed for cheapness and quality—Cultivators, Horse Hoes, Chip-mills, &c. &c. In short, every utensil used in or about a farm. Wishing to avoid all imposition, each machine sold by him will be warranted to work as represented, or no sale; and, as these machines are procured in most cases directly from the Patentees and Manufacturers, the purchaser will be secure in the right of using.

Pricing will be as moderate, and, in some instances, less than the same machines can be procured singly from the Manufacturer.

As the demand is very great for the two first named machines, orders should be given soon by those wishing to purchase.

A SECRET FOR THE LADIES.—HOW TO PRESERVE BEAUTY.—Don't use Chalk, Lily White, or any of the so-called cosmetics, to conceal a faded or sallow complexion.

If you would have the roses brought back to your cheek, a clear, healthy and transparent skin, and life and vigor infused through the system, get a bottle of Carter's Spanish Mixture, and take it according to directions. It does not taste quite as well as your sweet-meats; but, if after a few doses you do not find your health and beauty reviving, your step elastic and vigorous, the morning system refreshed and invigorated like a Spring morning, then your case is hopeless; and all the subtle certifiers we possess, go for nought. It is the greatest purifier of the blood known; is perfectly harmless, and at the same time powerfully efficacious.

Great Cure of Piles.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 12th, 1855.

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure that I take this opportunity of informing you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of a few bottles of "Zoffland's German Bitters." For a number of years I have been sorely and severely afflicted with a pain in the stomach, attended by severe attacks of the Piles, for which I tried a great many remedies, but without affording me any relief. Being advised to use the "German Bitters," I did so, using in connection, for the Piles, your "Spookwood Ointment," and I now inform you that they have entirely cured me, and restored me to health, and I would advise all the afflicted to use your valuable medicines, &c.

Respectfully yours, MARGARET REPSHER,

DIAGUERREOTYPES AND AMBROTYPE.

READER have you ever heard of GETTYS' imitable Daguerreotypes? If not go at once to his Saloon and see for yourself; and if you want a likeness of yourself or friends, as true as Nature and Art combined can make it, that is the place to go. If you want a picture put up in the most approved style and of the best materials—or, in short, if you want the worth of your money in a splendid Daguerreotype or Ambrotype, go to as he is the only Artist in Bedford County who can take the new style of Daguerreotypes and Ambrotypes.

He spares no pains to give full satisfaction, and permits no picture to go out until he is satisfied that it will do so. Having just returned from the East, he is in possession of all the latest improvements in the Art, and can assure his patrons that he can furnish them with a style of pictures not taken by any other person in the County.

Rooms at the "Exchange Building," or Odd Fellows Hall, immediately above the store of Mr. A. B. Cramer.

Our friends who are in arrears will please consult their interest by attending to this notice at once and not put us under the unpleasant necessity of making them pay cash.

Bedford, May 16, 1856—2m.

PATENT WASHING MACHINE.

The undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of Bedford County, that they have purchased the patent for the above Machine, from the patentee, (C. Hollingsworth, State of Indiana), and are now prepared to manufacture, and keep constantly on hand, the Floating Ball or Knuckle Washing Machine, at St. Clairsville.

This Machine works well, and a girl of fourteen years, can perform the largest Washing in a very short time, and the amount of clothes and soap saved in a year, will pay for the Machine. Everybody should have one of these Machines.

Some of the citizens of St. Clairsville have tried it, and can testify to what we have said concerning it.
