Happy Results. The New York Express says.—When the practice of inhalation for the treatment of consumption was first established here, by Dr. Robert Hunter, of this city, and its success and availability strongly advocated in the leading journals, the assertion was made by Dr. Hunter that if every case of consumption in this city were placed under judicious treatment by inhalation, within two years the mortality from this disease would be diminished one half.

The opponents of the new principle of local application of vapor for the cure of disease of the lungs, appeared accordingly to the bill of mortality, predicting the most discouraging consequences from the wide prevalence which the new system had suddenly gained.

Dr. Hunter in answering the appeal to the bills of mortality, regularly published in his journal, the Medical Specialist, points out a further decrease in the deaths from consumption in New York, reaching now to the extent of thirty-one per cent decrease for a comparison of the three months just past, with the corresponding quarters of the previous years.

Have You Seen Sam?—Last year about this time, Sam was a very important fellow, in his own estimation. He put on pompous airs; with his forefingers stuck between the buttons of his vest, he swaggered about with a knowing look, and very consequential shake of the head.

Walking upon Railroad Tracks.—A person who walks upon a Railroad track but slightly apprehends the danger of his position. He imagines that he can step out of the way upon the approach of the train, but there are now, unfortunately, too many instances upon record of the fallacy of the supposition.
