TERMS. SO PER YEAR.

NEW SERIES-VOL. 1, NO. 21.

Select Poeten.

A SPANISH ROMANCE

BY PRANCES & OSCOOD Bright fell thy smaling ray, Rosy Aurora! Where Alvarado lay, Dreaming of Mora!

To the tent stole a youth Lovely as morning, years his mien in sooth full of proud scorning.

Bright, wavy locks fell o'er Eyes wildly beaming, Deep the plumed cap he wore Shadowed their gleaming.

To his pale cheek there came For his light, fragile frame Thrilled for the onset.

Bold was his bearing, While on the knight he threw Words of wild daring.

Crying-Thou craven false !" "He who in battle halts," Proves him a coward."

Long had he calmly heard-Brave Atcarado Deering each daring word Boysti bravado.

That litter name But that litter now.
Lets the poorling.
Fractick Frank sword—a flame
Thomas the air whirling.

Proud as his princely foe, Danieless in danger, Sprang the bright stranger.

At his feel tying, Pale as the waning star-Who is it dying !. Back fall the cap and plume, Back the bright tresses-

clu

tul

int

H

W.

Mex

C trans reek

Leco

that the

by a test

lars.

inter

of th

tion

185

ofor

Wes

rual

dec' The thes

Сна of th

Clo

No more her rosy bloom Meets his caresses. Lightly her lovely hair

To his heart's mad despair

Sighing "Forgiven!"

But her pale, parted bps Silently quiver, And in Death's dark eclipse Falls she forever!

Sad fell thy sunny ray, Rosy Aurora, Where Alvarado lay

HARLET'S MISTORY.

f Oh Touching THE LORD HAMLET.

er ta Is n Grammaticus. At the same time, few persons certain whether his suspicions were correct, danced upon the straw, clapping his hands and danced upon the straw, clapping his hands and she walked she tucked up her gown by the gir. She walked she tucked upon the straw or other; but, if he were lioness under the tree. This made her husband the exquisitely lovely Miss De La Sparrowweight of the grains in derration he was in extension. Nor address in extension is proved as the proper five people like to read in an easy position, of the proper five death in the third place, when after disting place, when after disting the death and the infinite annovance of the read in the stand and the infinite annovance of the read in the proper five death in the proper like death and the infinite annovance of the exquisitely lovely Miss De La Sparrow distance, the death and the infinite and the infinite annovance of the sould be added to the proper five death in the exquisitely lovely Miss De La Sparrow dit is que the sole consequence of his voluntary ec- est idea. In the fullest sense of the expression, duly hung up the very day after the ceremony. culty. ver, as ries by the narration of a (to them) well- and a very unsavory it was.

vote on tale, we show to the general reader Fengo, on his return, missed his friend, for Although he had artfully contrived the destruc-AdmirSaxo-Grammaticus be a faithful historian. nate of courtiers, but had boiled down his limbs sively enraged at their death, and the king of tes for Balder, son of the god Odin-conce upon a ed, but those who heard him merely thought that som in gold, which the astute Hamlet melted, hand upon him. The queen was not only fierce conjugal fidelity of my lady; whereas the lion rail roads approached a sharp road road roads approached a sharp road road roads approached a sharp roads approached a sharp roads approached a sharp roads approached roads a n sun when Ruric reigned over Denmark, the he was uttering one of his mad pleasantries, and and poured into two hollow sticks. st of sace of Jutland was governed by two broth- laughad as usual. Indeed, at the court of Jut- Afrer he had lived in Britain about a year, · Secreamed Horwendil, slew the King of Nor- land everybody seems to have been an arrant he thought he would like to see his native Jut- grieve to relate, he jumped at the offer, regard-might be murdered in his turn, began to feign | epistolary correspondence. With all the clever- man himself. thod in his madness," and communicated their ter to Hamlet for a wife.

that the Merry Monarch

onever said a foolish thing, And never did a wise one.

C. Home track the smell and ak! "Look, what a big knile we have found!"

plain to him hat the sand on the shore was bread; so the admiring king pursued his inves- heap of half-burned corpses, the early rising Let us sketch the story of a lion's life, beginflour, and that the pebbles were groats. But tigations with reference to the bacon, when it part of the population, not seeing any one who ming with his marriage, which takes place to-Hamlet said: "Such floor as that has been turned out that the pigs of the royal sty had could tell them how it had all happened, were wards the end of January. He has first to seek ground by the storm and the white foaming bil- on one occasion, broken loose, and feasted on not a little puzzled. Sentiments were varied— his wife, but as the males are more abundant

TOUCHING THE LORD HAMILET. a heap of straw, time constituted at important part of the furniture of the part of the furniture of the first place the illustrious lady was in the his death, if it occurred otherwise than by the mane; she lay down at the foot of a tree, the With his usual shrewdness, Hamlet gnessed there habit of wearing the hood of her cloak over her course of nature, and now Fengo was slain by Hamlet is taken from the Danish historian Saxonething wrong in the room, and to as-head, contrary to the usages of what Csric calls the person whom the king esteemed above.

The Arab then heard the distant growling of a Exquisite Sextiment.—"What!" exclaimed eriold a light volume in their hands. A folio, ately transfixed by the sword of Hamlet. Queen reigned over this island! Talent had a chance such a dislike to matrimony, that if a suitor of being rewarded then, especially at the Brit-presented himself, the popping of the question lion made his appearance on the plain. The visits and friendly attentions to a lady might be madness, began to wrep aloud, but Hamlet, ish court. Far from reproving Hamlet for his was instantly followed by a public execution. lioness rose to go towards him, but her husband, construed into an engagement is subsiding, under Under these circumstances, it is probable that dropping the mask, read her a severe lecture on matchless impertinence, the enlightened king of Hamlet was to solicit the hand of this lady for guessing her intention, bounded towards his ri- the following method of protection. Out West, ny persons know exceedingly little of the the impropriety of her position. His words Britain was in exstacies at his acuteness, and the King of Britain, who had recently become a val. The two cronched and sprang at each the bachelors provide themslves with cards duly Intionary character of Hamlet, and that when seemed to have an effect, as, today will they at once gave him his daughter in marriage, widower, and the Scottish Queen, it was hoped other, tolling on the grass in the embrace of labelled, "Good for this call only!" which are Coy heard him hint to his friends that he is might, for they were marked by a ruffianly thanking the gods for sending him such a clever would dispatch him according to precedent. death. Their bones cracked, their flesh was sufficient evidence of no serious intentions. The world free of the put an antic disposition on, they coarseness which could not be exceeded, and of son-in-law. That the wedding might not want the air, son-in-law. That the wedding might not want the son-in-law. That the wedding might not want the son-in-law. in y that the grave pleasantries of the tragedy which Shakespeare does not convey the slightits proper sclemnity, the two attendants were king would be released from his moral diffiand all this time the horses crouched, and wagits proper sclemnity, the two attendants were king would be released from his moral diffithe wife of a jolly son of Erin, who had just reicity. Hence, at the risk of offending an- Hamlet gave his mother a "bit of his mind," The advantage which Hamlet took of this latter. However, when Hamlet reached the Scottish the combat ended, and both warriors were ote of a funny person Hamlet really was -that Hamlet had not only killed that most unfortu- tion of his comrades, he pretended to be excesmy Nee upon a time-and a very long time ago and thrown them into the sewer to-be devouted Britain, who felt great awe at Danish indignaseen, was the lad's maternal grandfather. To his eye in the royal palace, was the celebration Scots at his heels.

books, and baving baked them in the fire, con- than he shaved off the inscription and carved absence for a year, that she had received news checked by the unexpected obstacle. The en- their mother to the border of the forest, where cealed them carefully, saving that they were ar- another, in which he not only named the two of his death, to perform as much of a funeral as myte of the king being thus revealed. Hamlet their father brings them their supper. rows for his father's morderer, the more shrewd sleepers as the persons to be killed, but also is possible when the corpse is wanting, and to retreated to the spot where he had left his Scot- months old they accompany their father and persons of the court, notwithstanding the laugh- formed a request from Fengo, that the King of hang the great half of the palace with netted tish adherents, but was immediately pursued mother on all their noctornal expeditions. From ter of the fools, decemed there was some "me- Britain would be kind enough to give his daugh- tapestry. By Queen Gerutha, who was of a by his enemy, who routed the little force of eight to twelve months they learn to attack

Since, while by the excessive supplify of one acts, he maintained his reputation for insanity, he constantly shook the very belief he wished to establish by sayings of remarkable shrewdness. Thus, on the occasion of the notable ride into the wood, a wolf happened to closs his match.

Thus, on the wood, a wolf happened to closs his was not very exalted. The king and queen of the illustrious pair banging over the sleeping king, and how would not bate an income of the normal acts, he meat smell the net-hangings from the walls, and so lastened him to the head of the provincial government, by Gerard, that the strongest man in the cavallities a human corpse—all good and weighty reather them over the sleepers, by means of the hooks, the gift of the Danish crown: and though Hambar to carry the skin and head of the lion Gerard had killed.—Westminster Review.

Thus, on the occasion of the notable ride king and queen of Britanian; and his answer. Fengo's chamber, took down the sword that was showed that his opinion of the illustrious pair banging over the sleeping king, and hong up his showed that his opinion of the illustrious pair banging over the sleepers, by means of the hooks, the moteration the motable ride to carry the skin and head of the long of the gift of the Danish crown: and though Hambar to carry the skin and head of the lion Gerard had killed.—Westminster Review.

Honesty of Country Gills.—An amusing incident took place in one of the large dry was not very exalted. The king, he said, had own in its place. A goods stores of our city a short time since. A the eyes of a serf, and as for the queen, she be of Fengo when he was awakened by a voice that was a person who would not bate an inch of goods stores of our city a short time since. A their form at the demented prince, exclaimed they were worthy of a cond and secons inquest. Bow, what a big knife we have found! How have found! Now, it was quite possible that Hamlet's conduct white a big knife we have found! Now, it was quite possible that Hamlet's conduct where the bread came from, and presently blow.

Seginning with the subject of dinner, he asked where the bread came from, and presently blow.

Now, it was quite possible that Hamlet's conduct white he would follow him, and kill herself in the event of his death. A conflict ensued, in which Hamlet was a few model to contain the subject of dinner, he asked to the persuasions of his second wife. Herefore, the asked white asked that she would follow him, and kill herself in the event of his death. A conflict ensued, in which Hamlet was a few model to contain the subject of dinner, he asked that Hamlet's conduct white here asked to the persuasions of his second wife. Herefore, to a safe hiding place, the refired, therefore, to a safe hiding place, the refired, therefore, to a safe hiding place, the refired, therefore, to a safe hiding place, the refired that was his leading virtue, where the break came from, and presently blow.

Whith that prudence that was his leading virtue, the refore, to a safe hiding place, the refired, therefore, to a safe hiding place, the refired, therefore, to a safe hiding place, the refired was the pear of the virtue and the virt These jekes may not appear very brilliant penalty of the law. Moreover, in the well from some wept, while a third party, which seems to it is not rare to find a young lady pestered by now, but they made a great sensation in the which the water had been drawn for the supply bave been that of the majority, hinted that the the adresses of three or four gallants, who quar-Hamlet and Yorick were historically one and the not be sufficiently admired by the excellent king which he avowed what he had done, gloried that leads them into the presence of an old lion, time person.

However, delightful as the mad prince's jokes of Britain, who was resolved to look into those he had avenged his father's murder; and, in hit whom she has appreciated at a distance. The little family matters that had been likewise shart, managed matters so well, that a gen-lovers fly at him with the termerity of youth and shield, and told him in a few words, that if he epithet which the indignant Arab shouled after would woo her on his own account, instead of her. ceptible to feminine beauty. Therefore, we a pattern of conjugal affection.

palace. Hamlet was nothing loth; but, as his herself for longer and longer periods, and bring

"What's that?" said Hamlet.

"A young foal," replied one of the attendants; winking, no doubt, at the eyes of a serf, and as for the quern, she because it winking, no doubt, at the rest.

"Alia," quith Hamlet, "there are many such foals at Fengo's court."

Such foals at Fengo's court."

Such foals at Fengo's court. The first importance of the king occasioned by this sarcasm had quite ceased to tingle, the party arrived at the servents more are formed at the servents more are formed at the servents more are formed at the servents of an as for the quern, she becaused, the passes of our tilly ashed to his privileges. Indeed, the new king had all the place of all her possession, and Hamlet is bere to his privileges. Indeed, the new king had all the possession, and Hamlet is bere to his privileges. Indeed, the new king had all the possession, and Hamlet is bere to his privileges. Indeed, the new king had all to his privileges. Indeed, the new king had all the design of all her possession, and Hamlet is bere to despoiled Gerotha of all her possession, and then the first of the start of the delinquency of her son. A considering the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the delinquency of the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the delinquency of her son. A considering the possession, and the passes of the passes of the king of Bergion was naturally of a men are burning to askes, and Hamlet is bere to death of his father." The first time are despoiled Gerotha of all her possession, and the privileges. Indeed, the new king had all the possession, and the possession and the possession, and the possession and the possession, and the possession and the possess ged her tail slowly in sign of satisfaction. When court, affairs took a turn which the king of stretched on the plain, she rose, smelt them, tired, sure with your long walk of six miles." Britain didn't contemplate. The terrible queen satisfied herself that they were dead, and trotwas greatly struck by a picture on Hamlet's ted off, quite regardless of the uncomplimentary hand upon him. The queen was not only fierce conjugal fidelity of my lady; whereas the lion rail roads approached a sleepy passenger the

Our lion, then, is married, let us say. He is Secretamed Horwendil, slew the King of Nor- land everybody seems to have been an arrant he thought he would like to see his native Jut- grieve to relate, he jumped at the offer, regard- Our lion, then, is married, let us say. He is awake, "I've stopped a giving of them. My last of the slave of his wife. It is she who always would draw no cash." He must be one of those of Norwegian booty to Ruric, that the band full monarch bestowed upon him the band full monarch bestowed upon him the band for words without further ado, had be not full monarch bestowed upon him the band for words without further ado, had be not for with his two loaded sticks, to visit the collection of tents al Est, daughter Gerotha. Of this strange feared to offend King Ruric, who as we have folks at home." The first spectacle that met Britain with his new wife, and a train of young what we call a village,") for their supper, she lies down while he leaps into the inclosure, and readinge frame, was the result.

The seen, was the lad's insternat grandianter.

The seen, was the lad's instead of rejoicing get rid of Hamlet, stratagem was necessary, and of his funeral, held on the strength of a report.

Hamlet's first wife, the British princess, was brings to there the booty. He watches her proposed the other viceroy, instead of rejoicing get rid of Hamlet, stratagem was necessary, and accordingly the good youth was sent on an embed him out bassy to Britain—a proceeding which, as he was been enough and married Gerutha himself.—

Towards the end of December of the other viceroy, instead of rejoicing get rid of Hamlet, stratagem was necessary, and gentle, forgiving creature, who was so delight while she eats, taking carethat no one disturbs accordingly the good youth was sent on an embed with the had died in particular to the mourners, when he re-appeared at her hisband's safe return, that she vowed her; and not till her appetite is satisfied does he then, I don't care much about these stone gals."

Towards the end of December Alcount for this singular proceeding, he ex- a reputed maniac, must have been deemed high- amongst them, looking as silly and dirty as not only to love him still, but to love his second, begin his meal. Towards the end of December e will of to King Ruric, that the deceased was in iv complimentary to the British court. Two ever. When he was asked what had become of wife also. With these professions she met him they seek an isolated ravine, and there she presales had to king Ruric, that the deceased was in the complimentary to the British count. Two ever. When he was asked what had become of wife also. Win these professions sie met unit they seek an isolated ravine, and there she present they seek an isolated ravine, and they seek an isolated ravine, and the seek an isolated ra Escape man exceeding disagreeable posi- and secretly carried with them (by turns, we of the old imbecility, and caused explosions of tertain the same liberal views on the subject of puppy lion, he will understand the idolatry of "Whatever begins with they say," is on the "Whatever begins with 4 and secretify carried with terrain letters carved laughter, for an instance of the family affronts and that he had better be on his the father and mother. She never quits them face of it not true." the association of the second marriage.

The matter blew over; but the days of King Ruric, bits of carved wood who struck Billy Patterson. No one doubts the proposed many agreement of the second marriage.

The pow Hamlet, thinking that were the approved means for carrying on an him that a man's money value is in fact. The matter and mother. She never quits them face of it not true."

The association of the wood with carriage and mother. She never quits them face of it not true."

The association of the wood with carriage and mother. She never quits them face of it not true."

The association of the wood with carriage and mother. She never quits them face of it not true."

The association of the wood with carriage and mother. She never quits them face of it not true."

The association of the wood with carriage and mother. She never quits them face of it not true."

The association of the wood with the sticks contained the worth in bullion of the two executed gentlement nor had they reached discourse had proceeded so far, the old king home supper. When they are three months the two executed gentlement nor had they reached discourse had proceeded so far, the old king home supper. When they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they reached discourse had proceeded so far, the old king home supper. When they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they reached discourse had proceeded so far, the old king home supper. When they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they are three months the two executed gentlement on had they are three months and the two executed gentl diocy, that he might thus appear too insignifi-cant for his uncle's suspicions. He jabbered a Jutland Court, the two confidential gentlement the funeral ceremonies, which were so strangely to put on a suit of armor, which was concealed father whose habitual demeanor is grave, begreat deal of nonsense; he contrived that his went to sleep one night in Hamlet's presence interrupted by the safe return of the deceased, by his upper garments. Nor did this precautive with the frivolous sports of the proventies of the contrived by that very person. Be to prove useless, for no sooner did Hamlet children, and for the sake of tranquility removes that of a scarecrow, and he smutted over his ets. Of course the pockets were rummaged by fore Hamlet had set out for Britain, he had a make his appearance at the palace gate, than his lodging to a distance—within reach, how-face, so that his features were scarcely discern- the artful prince, and of course he found the second interview with his mother, in the course However, when he made certain wooden dispatch, which he had no sooner read of which he requested her to pretend, after his through the body of the Dane, had it not been age of four or five months the children follow femarkable pliant disposition, all these orders Scotsmen, and would have destroyed every man sheep, goats, and even bulls; but they are so The policy pursued by Hamlet during his so- avere carefully followed, though she knew well of them, had he not been interrupted by the awkward they usually wound ten for one they Fengo, therefore, determined to watch his nythem closely; and, on one occasion when handlet took a ride into the woods with some wouth of his own age, it was expected that his over a foologia anadman; by the Britons be wished to pass the very reverse of that shough that she would see her son again at the approach of night. When darkness had set in, kill; it is not until they are two years old that which he had adopted while he was at home in the or a two with some justly earned him immortality in the Danish their education is thus in progress they are ten or a foologia anadman; by the Britons he wished ting himself, he care—times more ruinous to the Arabs, since the famtrue character would be revealed. But his fost to be thought a model of wisdom. He first ex-tquantity of wine that he procured for the re- fully picked up the bodies of the slain, and rais- ity does not content itself with killing the catter- brother warned him that he was surrounded cited the general wonder by refusing to taste a freshment of the couriers was enormous, and he ing some into the perpendicular with the aid of the required for its own consumption, but killby spies and accordingly, to sustain his char-single morsel, or to drink a single drop at the added a practical joke to his verbal pleasantries, sticks and big stones, while he placed others on ling that the children may fearn how to kill. At acter for imbecility, he mounted his horse with very munificent banquet which the king of dancing about with a drawn sword, that he horse-back, he made them present a very formi- three years old the children quit home and set his head toward the tail - which he used as a bris Britain had provided for his reception. Indeed, fourished in the most reckless fashion, so that dable appearance. Hence, when the morning up for themselves, becoming fathers and mothers. dle—thereby causing much laughter and diver-sion. Their places are occupied sion. Their places are occupied by in abstinence so unusual in the good old receive some unlucky gash or thrust. His own stood stupidly staring, wondering whence the by another brood. At eight years old the lion Had Hamlet lived at the end of the seven- times, that when Hamlet and his attendants re- fingers he really did cut, and the couriers took auxiliaries could have come. Hamlet was not reaches maturity and lives to thirty or forty .-teenth century, instead of flourishing at the tired to their sleeping apartments he ordered advantage of the circumstance to fasten the the man to lose an opportunity; at the head of When adult, he is a magnificent creature, very commencement of the year nothing, we should one of his servants to listen at the door, and sword to the scabbard with a nail. the remaining Scotsmen, he charged the gaping different in size, aspect, color and disposition have concluded that he framed his sham charac-ter on the model of Charles the Second, as de-Hamlet's attendants, who shared the general cu-ter on the model of Charles the Second, as de-ter on the model of Charles the Second, as de-ter on the model of Charles the Second, as de-ter on the model of Charles the Second, as de-ter on the model of Charles the Second, as described by that famous epigram, which says riesity, no sooner found themselves alone with couriers had fallen from his bench, and was lyhim, than they inquired into the cause of his ing senseless on the floor. Hamlet now took returned with both his wives to Jutland, where fresh mountain air and ample nourishment. As mysterious abstinence. He quietly told their from his hiding place the wooden hooks that had be found himself involved in a constitutional an indication of the size attained by lions in a And never did a wise one."

Since, while by the excessive stupulity of his drink tasted of iron, and that the bread was stained with blood, that the caused so much mirth in early days, removed difficulty. The people had, it is true, raised state of nature, we may cite the fact mentioned him to the head of the provincial government, by Gerard, that the strongest man in the caval-besiated and drew a long breath, till finally, with a nod of her head toward the door, she faltered out, 'Yes, sir, he is.'

the corpse of a malefactor who had paid the last some were indignant at the wholesale slaughter, than females, who are often cut off in infancy, of Jamaica Plain, L. I., went to answer a ring at the front door, on the request year nothing, and the court of King Ruic was of the royal table, sundry rusty swords were event was to be regarded as rather fortunate of the distribution of the royal table, sundry rusty swords were event was to be regarded as rather fortunate tel with the acerbity of jealous lovers. If one that of the distribution of the d old. The lady screamed, one of the lady visitors took up the baby and found a note pinned to its dress, which charged the gentleman of were considered by other persons, they were not liked by his ancle, Fengo, who always suspected that some mischief was brooding, and was of Britain, and having asked her, very seriousdefermined to worm out his nephew's real charly, why he had the eyes of a serf, received the ince, Hemlet fitted up three ships in a most the second, and tears out the eye of the third. It is not a little one and asserting his innocence. The defermined to worm out his nephew's real character. He, therefore, by the counsel of a friend acter. He, therefore, by the country on some urgent matter, that during his supposed absence, Hambet matter, that during his supposed absence, Hambet matter, that during his supposed absence, Hambet matter, the rought have an interview with his mother, at which the same friend engaged to be present, which the same friend engaged to be present, and rendered with a pictorial record of the Britons seen a faithful husband. Finally the lady very marked in the behaviors of the queen consort. The good king, however, found a heap of straw, that constituted an important postion in the eyes of a serf, received the agreeable information that a certain slave, who agreeable information that a certain slave, who is innecented. How some in the symmetry was attendants than the lion tosses his mane in the air, as he friends interfered, and at last the wile was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like his own target was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like his own target was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like his own target was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like his own target was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like his own target was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like his own target was ornamented with a pictorial record of the deeds who, as a reward for his courage, like had done. Never had the rounted with a pictorial record of the expensive manner, and paid a visit to his father.

No sooner is the day won and the field clear, than the lion tosses his mane in the air, as he roars, and then crouches by the side of the lady, who, as a reward for his courage, like his day won at the wile was therefore personally questioned in the behaviors turned from the fair, in a decidedly "howcome-you-so" state. "You must be dreadful

"Arrah! get away with your nonsense," said Pat ; "it wasn't the length of the way, at all that fatigued me- twas the breadth of it."

but fair, and Hamlet's heart had even been sus- never quits his wife, unless forced, and is quite other night, and asked him for his check. "Check!" replied the sleepy passenger, half

> TA Yanker, who had just come from Flor-000 ence, being asked what he had seen and admired, and whether he was not in raptures with the

"It is not true!" exclaimed Faustina.
"What is not true, Countess?" asked he in he boy Hamlet, thinking that were the approved means for carrying on an him that a man's money value is, in fact, the happened, and invited him to a banquet in the accustoms them gradually to it, by absenting now that he was struck by the panic.