

CURING BEEF AND PORK.

The following mode of curing beef and pork, we have perhaps given before, but will bear republication:

To 1 gallon of water, Take 11 lbs. salt, 1 lb. brown sugar, 1 oz. saltpetre, 1 oz. potash.

In this ratio the pickle to be increased to any quantity desired.

Let these be boiled together until all the dirt from the salt and sugar, (which will be not a little,) rises to the top and is skimmed off .-Then throw the pickle into a large tub to cool, and when cold, pour it over your beef or pork, to remain the usual time say from four to six weeks, according to the size of the pieces, and powdered saltpetre .- Germantown Telegraph.

The following is the re- lidaysburg and Pittsburg stop at this Hotel.

To every 8 lbs of lard, add one ounce nitric acid; and the manner of making is as follows. Having carefully weighed your lard place it A PRIZE TO EVERY PURCHASER, over a slow fire, or at least merely melt it; then add the acid, and mould the same as tallow, and you have a clear beautiful candle.

In order to make them resemble bona fide tallow candles, you have only to add a small proportion of pure beeswax. J. A. Robison.

POISON ANTIDOTES.

POISON ANTIDOTES.

Every one should be fully aware of the best remedies for some of the more common poisons, so as to be ready to act at once in any emergency. We will name some of these remedies—only one or two at a time, that each one may become fixed in the mind. Read the thrilling sketch on in the mind. Read the thrilling sketch on page 203, and you will never forget what antidote to give for Corrosive Sublimate-rather we think, you will never leave that "bug poison where a child can possibly get to it. It is better to administer albumen (white of eggs) beat up with a little water, but no delay must be allowed. The only hope of counteracting this deadly porson lies in prompt action. If eggs are not on hand at once, given large and repeated doses of flour mixed with water, or better with sweet milk. Milk itself is a partial, if not complete antidote for corrosive sublimate.

Arsenic.—The best antidote for this poison is a chemical substance called Hydrated Peroxide of Iron, freshly prepared, which can only be obtained of a druggist. But do not wait for this. While it is being sent for, and at the first moment after discovering that arsenic has been taken, pour down dose after dose of water slightly warmed, promoting vomiting by thrusting the finger or a feather down the throat. Keep up this until the stomach has been literally washed out, at least a dozen times. A friend cheapest. of ours took a teaspoonful of arsenic in mistake for cream of tartar, but discovering his error soon after, he ran to the stove and commenced drinking all he could pour down of lukewarm dish water, which happened to be there. As fast as this was thrown up he took another dose, and in this way actually swallowed and vomited enough .- American Agriculturist.

BAKING BEETS.

A correspondent, who has traveled in Italy, says that one of the interesting novelties in that country was "Baked Beets," carried hot from the ovens and sold in the streets at almost all hours of the day. He tried them as a matter of curiosity, at first, and found them very delicious when eaten with butter, salt and pepper. Thousands boy and eat them thus, and, not unfrequently, make up an entire meal in this way. This is not new to us. In Volume XIII., page 117, we recommended baking beets, and we can assure all who will adopt this mode that they will find it much superior to boiling, as baking renders them much more tender, sweet and juicy .- American Agriculturist.
